Increase Wealth Of The Country

APPEAL TO LABOUR

Mysore, 11

Inaugurating the third session of the Indian National Trade Union Congress, Mysore Branch. at Mandya yesterday. Mr. A. G. Ramachandra Rao, Labour Minister called upon the labourers "to put the cause of the country in the forefront and be ready to make the fullest sacrifice for the preservation of the unity and integrity of Free India, its development and its great mission of Peace."

The Minister said the labour movement had both economic and political aspects as the basis of their various activities. With the attainment of freedom, the political factor was happily receeding to the background and the economic urges were coming to their own in labour activities.

He stated that the economic base of the labour movement was gaining predominance. It would be to their good that the trade unions should keep themselves a little away from day-to-day politics of the country. He also advocated proper organisation of labour for bringing home to the employer their hardships and suffering and secure adequate redress.

Mr. Ramachandra Rao also stressed the need for giving more attention to the improvement of the agricultural labour. In Mysore, he said there were 18 lakhs of landless labour, who were poor, illiterate and disorganised.

Referring to rationalisation, he said it should neither be avoided nor indefinitely postponed. It should be achieved without causing unemployment. This demanded a resourceful attitude on the part of the employer and a little indulgent attitude on the part of the worker and he had every confidence that Mysore would be able to achieve this golden mean.

Mr. H. M. Chennabasappa, Industries Minister addressing asked the workers to shoulder their responsibility and co-operate with management and consumers to increase the wealth of the country.

BHOODAN IS DISTRIBUTION OF POVERTY

The Governor of Bombay, Dr. Harekrushna Mehtab has expressed the view that the Bhoodan movement of Acharya Vinob Bhave was merely a 'distribution of poverty' in India.

He did not believe that the land problem was the biggest of the most acute problem facing India; the biggest and most acute problem in India today was poverty.

The Bhoodan movement, he observed, did not mean more land for the land-less, but only a change of right in land from one person to another. The Governor said that it was not necessary that every one in the country or in the village must possess land. Land should be left in the possession of those who would cultivate it on their own account and responsibility. Suitable land reform legistalation would go far to solve what was now generally called the land problem. Generally as soon as the cultivator got his fare share of the fruits of the soil, he did not care who owned the land.

Comparing the methods and views of Mahatma Gandhi and Vinoba Bhave in solving the problem of poverty, the Governor said 'Bapuji strove for the removal of poverty, while Vinobji is distributing it. Bapuji strove to create a living link of sympathy between the rich and the poor, but Vinobji by accepting the responsibility of receiving and distributing the gifts himself, has disconnected the giver from the receiver. In the absence of this link of sympathy, violence will grow and will result in disruption of village life which is the exact opposite of Gandhism'.

Pointing out that rural development was an important work and the Commissioner should furnish a full report in future, the Government observed "it would appear that the work is sadly neglected in several taluks and also in some districts. PORTUGUESE ATROCITIES

MYSORE SATYAGRAHIS' EXPERIENCES

Mysore, 25

The first batch of Mysore satyagrahis who participated in the Goa Liberation movement by entering Portuguese territory on July 16 narrated their experiences to the pressmen here yesterday.

The leader Mr. Vedantha Hemmige stated that they were brutally assaulted by the Goan police at Nsdera. The satyagrahi Hanumanthe Gowda who refused to part with the Indian National Flag was not only beaten but also had his feet cut with a sharp blade. Then they were 'driven' to the top of a hillock near the Indian border. On the way the satyagrahis were forced more than once to immerse themselves in leech-infested canal. Dharmaraju, one of their satyagrahi swooned on the way and was able to return to the Indian border after twelve hours of wandering through the Portuguese territory.

One of the peculiar features that the satyagrahis observed was that entire villages which they passed on their way had been completely evacuated and not a human being was in sight. It was later learnt that villagers who were afraid of later reppression by the Goan Police usually resorted to fleeing whenever satyagrahis approached their villages.

"Special treatment" by way of more beatings was accorded to journalists, Christians, Muslims and Socialists.

PORTUGAL ASKED TO CLOSE DOWN THEIR LEGATION

INDIA GOVERNMENT'S DECISION

Prime Minister Nehru announced in the House of the People yesterday that the Government had asked for the closure of Legation in New Delhi with effect from August 8, 'as in the present circumstances, the Legation served no useful purpose'.

A note to this effect was handed over to the Portuguese Charge d'Affaires by the Foreign Secretary of India.

In the course of his Statement, the Prime Minister said 'The House and all our countrymen are deeply interested in the problem of the Portuguese enclaves in India. The struggle of the Goans for freedom and for integration with the Union of the India is not a new development. It dates back to a considerable time. More particularly in 1946, Goans made an attempt to free themselves. Their attempts failed. Ever since there has been continued agitation in Goa. Eminent citizens have been sentenced to long terms of imprisonment or deported. Even an expression of opinion in favour of integration or verbal protest led to imprisonment, loss of civil liberties in Goa. The Portuguese Government have consistently refused to have negotiations or even to discuss this matter. They have opened fire on peaceful Satyagrahis, and injured many.'

In conclusion the Prime Minister said that the Government of India hoped that in spite of all that happened, the Portuguese Government would reconsider their policy and would make a friendly response to their proposal for a negotiated settlement.

'The Government of India are firmly convinced that only peaceful methods should be followed and they do not approve of any action which would encourage a resort to violence', he said.

NO OUTSIDE INTERFERENCE TOLERATED

PRIME MINISTER NEHRU'S WARNING

"Portuguese retention of Goa in the existing conditions is a continued interference with the political system established in India today. Any foreigh power trying to interfere in that way in India is a thing which India cannot tolerate, and subject to her strength, whatever it way be, we will resist or we will oppose" declared Prime Minister Nehru speaking about the liberation of Goa yesterday in the Parliament.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

SOUTH INDIA NEGLECTED BY CENTRE

——says MINISTER CHENNABASAPPA

Mysore, 29

Mr. H. M. Chennabasappa, Industries Minister disclosed here yesterday that there was a proposal to hold a meeting of all the ministers of South Indian States shortly to bring pressure upon the Central Government for the proper development of South.

Addressing the local Congress workers, the Minister admitted that South India had been neglected by the Centre as regards industrial and other development schemes.

He regretted that since independence excepting a few miles in T.-C. State, not a single mile of new railway line had been laid in the South.

The Minister also accused the managements of Central Government's industrial concerns in the State of 'provincialism' in the matter of recruitment of labour. The establishment of these industries instead of proving beneficial to the State had created new problems like housing, water supply and sanitation. In fact, they had almost come to wish that these factories had not been established in Mysore State. Inspite of the fact that the State Government had provided funds and offered other facilities to set up these industries, they had no voice in the management. They were even thinking of withdrawing their share-capital of Rs. 90 lakhs invested in Indian Telephone industries and Hindustan Aircraft.

Mr. Chennabasappa felt that seperate and distinct catogories should be set aside in the manufacture of power, handloom and khadi clothes. That was the only way to make all the three sectors self-sufficient. He added that no 'amount of spoon-speeding' by way of subsidies and exemption from tax would make the industry stand on its own leg. The State Government, he said felt that the present exemption from duty limiting only to ten should be raised to 24 looms.

Referring to the establishment of Small-scale Indusries Emporia in Bangalore and Mysore, the Minister said that the Government would advance money to the artisans for purchase of raw materials in case of heavy orders.

He disclosed that in Bellary and Chitaldrug sulphur deposits were reported to have been discovered and if sufficient quantities were found, they would revive the Dichromate factory at Belagola,

The Mysore Government were seriously considering the setting up of cement, cardite and raw-film factories in the State.

Mr. Chennabasappa advised the Congressmen to fearlessly and boldly tell the truth even if it affected high personages. He admitted that there was corruption not only in Government officiala but even among the public. This they wanted to put down with the help of true Congressmen.

The Minister said that at present there was 'confusion' in the sales tax rules and he would meet the local merchants to have a frank discussion in the matter.

Mr.B.Narayanaswamy, President of the South-Ward Congress Committee welcomed the Minister.

Several Congressmen including Messrs. T. Narasimha Iyengar, M. R. C. Basappa, A. Ramanna, T.S.Subbanna pointed out the various grievances.

They stated that there were lot of pin-pricks in collection of sales tax especially to small marchants and the difficulties of the small industries like power-loom. They emphasised the urgent need for putting down the satta gambling in the city which was increasing day by day. They also wanted that officials should not side with any party in the Congress but carry on their duties without favour or fear.

They also suggested that Mysore-Bangalore railway should be converted into broad guage, more employment to Mysoreans in Railway Workshop, establishment of more industries in the city, supply of text-books by the Government themselves, constructing of Chamarajanagar-Satyamangalam railway, constitution of court of enquiry for small-scale industries and air-link to the city.

Baburao Jailed For Six years

FOR ATTEMPTING ON NEHRU'S LIFE

Baburao Laxman Kotchale, the 34-year-old rickshaw-puller, was sentenced to six years' rigorous imprisonment by the District and sessions Judge of Nagpur for making an attempt on the Prime Minister Nehru's life on March 12 last.

He was also sentenced to six months regorous imprisonment for causing hurt to four boys and endangering the lives of the occupants of the Prime Mtnister's car by throwing his rickshaw in the front.

In the course of the judgement, the Sessions judge observed 'on account of his grievance against the administration, Baburao, in broad daylight, publicly attempted to murder Mr. Jawaharlal Nehru. Baburao appears to be a desperate character. It is possible that he was misguided. These considerations do not in any way minimise the outrage. Fortunately, the vigilance and the alertness of the police officers on the spot averted a major tragedy. But the mind which conceived, decided upon, and very nearly executed such an act merits condign and deterrent punishment.'

REVIEW:

"ASHADABHOOTI"

Mysore, 30

Mahatma Pictures' Kannada social "Ashadabhooti" was released here yesterday at Lakshmi theatre.

The film has Sampath, Saroja Devi and Balakrishna in important roles with Pratima Devi, Lakshamma, Shanta, Indushekar, Mahabala Rao, M. A. Subbiah in support.

It depicts the story of an escaped convict who in the guise of a bearded sanyasi (Sampath) with the help of his disciple (Balakrishna) hoodwinks the guileable public with his supposed mysterious powers and also tries to kidnap the zamindar's wife and his riches. But his exploits are nipped and he goes to jail ultimately.

The unnecessary and long-drawn film is an ordinary one from technical and artistic point of view. The pranks and jokes of guru and sishya are not of very high standard. Sampath is handicapped by weight and it is high time he reduces himself. The female characters have acquitted themselves creditably. The marriage and other scenes are highly realistic. The music is good. On the whole the picture is entertaining.

Nutrition Schemes For Second plan

Mysore, 2

The Nutrition Advisory Committee of the Indian Council of Medical Research which met here at the Central Food Technological Research Institute concluded today. Dr. K. C. Sen presided.

The Committee discussed and finalised the programme of research in the field of nutrition for inclusion in the Second Five Year Plan. It considered the various pressing nutritional problems facing the country for the solution of which research was required. The problem of protein malnutrition in infants and growing children, the provision of nutritious midday meals to all school going children, studies on the prevention of specific diseases such as goitre, fluorosis and lathyrism, the development of concentrated protein foods from relatively inexpensive and locally available food resources, the augmentation of the campaign to educate the people in food and nutrition as an integral part of health education were among the subjects to which the Committee gave very high priority for inclusion in the Second Five Year Plan. The programme outlined by the Committee will form a part of the overall programme of medical research now being finalised by the Council.

Among the other subjects discussed by the Committee was one dealing with trends in population growth and their relation to diet. The Committee examined statistically whatever information was available on this subject and was unable to find evidence to substantiate the statements made recently that rice diets are specifically associated with high birth rates. The Committee, however, realised that the available data on this subject were far from adequate and emphasised the need for a further study of this problem.

Architect of Peace★

★

★Father of the Nation

DHEBER GREETS THE NATION

The Congress President, Mr.U.N.Dhebar in an Independence Day message says "I send my heartiest greetings to the great nation. May it continue to be her privilege to play an illustrious role in securing world peace. May it be her privilege to achieve her goal for national prosperity and equality through the process of democratic, peaceful and legitimate means."

Mr. Dhebar said "the struggle that they fought for securing independence and won was extraordinary and no nation has secured its freedom from foreign rule by means so pure and noble as India has done.

"For the last eight years, the Nation is carrying on a struggle for emancipation from economic and social backwardness. It can claim with pride that it has survived most inconceivable and difficult obstacles in her way. We can also look with confidence at our achievements both in the national and international fields.

"It is now fully clear the march onwards towards national prosperity and social equality can be through reliasation of socialistic social order. The Indian Nation, not withstanding the difficulties and sacrifices involved, is determined to achieve her national goal."

In offering his greetings to the people of the nation he did not want to exclude the people living in Portuguese settlements in India for he had not "the slightest doubt that the people of Diu, Daman and Goa will soon be with us to share in the burdens, cares, joys and prosperity with all of us as citizens of India."

Agricultural Production

Dr. PANJABRAO DESHMUKH,
Union Minister

The last three years have marked a turning point in the food and agricultural situation in the country. Agricultural production has gone up; food problem has been solved in the sense that if people want to buy food there is enough to buy; shortages in the case of cotton, oilseeds and sugar are nearly over; and finally the whole economic climate has undergone a change, which is conducive to investment and enterprise.

The production of cereals in 1953-54, estimated at 58 m. tons, was the highest on record and exceeded by 5. 5. m. tons the target of 52.5 million tons set for the year 1955-56. It is worthy of note that this good fortune was largely due to a very substantial increase in the average production per acre of rice attributable wholly to the new method of paddy cultivation. The production in 1954-55 subjected to unprecedented floods and draughts in the whole of Western India falls short of 1953-54 production by 2.7 million tons; even then it exceeds the target for 1955-56 by 2.8 million tons.

The imports during 1953 amounted to 0.8 million tons as compared with 4.7 million tons in 1951. Further, large availability of foodgrains has led to an easing of the price position. At some places, prices have tended to drift to uneconomic levels. This has necessitated a number of corrective measures.

Although during the current year, the country has neared self-sufficiency in food grains, there can be no guarantee that this would be maintained owing to increase in population, climatic conditions and the possibility of unfavourable monsoons. Further, higher rate of consumption of cereals will have to be provided for because, firstly, with increase in national income resulting from the implementation of the Five Year Plan, the per capita consumption of foodgrains is likely to go up and, secondly, the amount of protective foods required to achieve balanced diet will not be attained even by 1960-61.

During the current year the acute phase of scarcity has come to an end and a new problem of surpluses has come to the forefront.

Our resort should be in favour of expanding exports or encouraging home consumption. While a number of measures are on hand which are designed to reduce the retail prices so that the consumption can be increased, there is at the same time a need for starting a number of labour-intensive projects, especially in depressed pockets on which will be employed a large number of unemployed or underemployed persons, so that the additional purchasing power in their hands is utilised for the purchase of surplus foods. Such a solution is at present under the consideration of the Government of India.

India On The March

By V. Balu

Independence brought to our nation a legacy of unimaginable burdens and cares. But thanks to the vision of our great leaders, and our social order based upon non-violence, India in the 8th year of her independence can testify to uniform progress in all directions. What with our policy of peaceful co-existence and the dynamism of Nehruji, India has attained a high stature in the comity of nations.

After independence, the country has largely solved with courage and imagination, the problem of the refugees. It has framed a Constitution of which it can justly be proud. It has tackled the problem of integration of 600 heterogeneous Princely States and will make India a complete unit with the solution of the problem of Goa. The first Five Year Plan which is of the order of Rs. 3,500 crores has been in operation. Four years of working of this plan has had successful results in the sphere of agriculture and industry. The second Five Year Plan is under preparation in a more ambitious way. Huge establishments like the Chittaranjan Locomotives, the Sindhri Fertilisers, the Indian Telephone Industries, etc., and a chain of 14 national laboratories have been set up. A socialistic pattern of society has been set for the country. Vinobaji's great Baoodan movment has won several lakhs of acres of land and constitutes a silent revolution.

All these does not mean we can afford the luxury of complacency and self-satisfaction. Let us recognise the achievements of our national government and consider them sources of inspiration for the future. New India which believes that incentives other than material can also provide motive power for economic and social advances has much to contribute to the world.

May we therefore dedicate ourselves to the task of participating in the great building programme of our nation by doing our work well with a living faith in truth.

Public Health in India

The maintenance of an efficient public health service in a Welfare State is of paramount importance. Ever since the attainment of Independence, the Government of India has been constantly striving to make the public health services more efficient, as the ultimate success of a democratic administration depends on the sound health of a nation.

Although health is a State subject, it is found that the amount of provisions made in the various State budgets for public health is not commensurate with the magnitude of the problem. Despite the budgetary limitations and financial difficulties of the States, health and educaton are the primary needs of an individual in a democracy. The Central Government alone spends about Rs. 10 crores on the medical and public health services of the nation.

Protected water supply and better drainage and sanitation arrangements play an important part in the national life of a country. They are of primary importance for the prevention of the scourge of water-borne diseases. Under the First Five Year Plan, a sum of Rs. 12 crores has been allotted for water supply and drainage schemes in urban areas and Rs. 6 crores for rural areas.

With a view to eradicate the scourge of malaria the Government of India have launched the National Malaria Control Scheme. During 1954-55, a total of 136 malaria units were in operation to protect a population of about 136 millions. The whole scheme costs approximately Rs. 10 crores to the Central exchequer.

Independence Day Celebrations

Mysore, 16

More than 10,000 people of the city participated in the Independence Day Celebrations yesterday morning when the National Flag was unfurled by the Municipal President Mr. K. Puttaswamy. This was followed by a March Past of police, Bharat Scouts and Girl Guides, Seva Dal and NCCs and Mr.M.S.Shankara Rao, the Deputy Commissioner took the salute.

In the evening, at a largely attended public meeting held at the Townhall, the Chief Minister Mr. K. Hanumanthaiya called upon the people to dedicate themselves for the reconstruction of the country.

Owing to inclement weather, the function was arranged inside the Townhall. But thousands of people had gathered outside demanding admission. So the Chief Minister had to come out and address the gathering for a few minutes.

Mr. K. Puttaswamy, Municipal President welcomed the Chief Minister.

Mr. Hanumanthiah addressing the gathering inside the Tonwhall stated that on this happy occasion they had to remember with gratitude Father of the Nation--Mahatma Gandhi, who laid down his life for the country.

Reviewing the progress achieved during these 8 years, the Chief Minister said that to improve the economic condition, they had spent nearly Rs. 2500 crores during the four years of the first Five-Year Plan and they hoped to spend double the amount during the second Plan period. He pointed out that no other Nation in the world had achieved so much in such a short period as India had done and that was due to the willing co-operation of the public.

Referring to education, Mr. Hanumanthaiya stated that they were not able to achieve much in this direction. He was afraid that they were not able to comply with the directive principle of the Constitution which had laid down that all children upto the age of 14 should be provided with compulsory free education. This was due mainly to lack of finance.Here he pointed that in Mysore, they were spending nearly 1/5 of their revenue but still only 24 out of 100 persons were educated. So he had launched the Boodan and Vidyadan movement to make schools self-sufficient and also enlist the cooperation of the educated persons for giving free educational service. He was happy that the response was very encouraging and they had collected so far 23496 acres of land. To utilise the services of 10,000 educated persons in the State, the Government would shortly finalise a scheme.

A section of the crowd assembled outside demonstrated with slogans against the participation in the function when their own men were dying in another place for the liberation of Goa.

THEFT OF SILVER ARTICLES

25 SATYAGRAHIS KILLED

PORTUGUESE MILITARY RAIN BULLETS

SATYAGRAHA SUSPENDED

25 persons died including a lady, and several others injured when Portuguese police and military opened fire against unarmed satyagrahis yesterday when they commenced ' mass satyagraha ' for liberation of Goa.

From midnight till morning 8, satyagrahis entered Goa and Diu-the Portuguese enclaves in about 6 batches. The total number of satyagrahis who participated were over 3000, more than 300 being women. There were even some children among them.

The Goan military and the police rained bullets against these peaceful satyagrahis without any warning and provocation. In some places the firing was in very short range. The Satyagrahis had with them nothing except IndianTri-colour flags. The Portuguese Police and Military opened fire in not less than six points. Some of the dead bodies were brought back to Indian soil by the other satyagrahis while other dead bodies were said to be still in the possession of the Portuguese. In many places the Portuguese used machine guns and bren guns. The casualities were said to be still more. The brutality of the Portuguese on the unarmed satyagrahis was said to be the record in the history of the world.

The Chairman of the Goa Liberation Movement announced yesterday that the satyagraha had been suspended as the Satyagraha on August 15 was a success. The Executive of the Gujarat Praja-Socilaist Party has also decided to stop the satyagraha in Daman.

The Government of Bombay has expressed its great concern over the brutality of the Portuguese unarmed satyagrahis.

Wild Life In Africa

MYSORE RAJAPRAMUKH'S EXPERIENCE

Mysore, 16

His Highness the Rajapramukh returned to the Capital on Sunday night after his six week tour in East Africa, Uganda and Tanganyika.

Narrating his experiences about the wild life in those countries, His Highness told the pressmen that "Our own wild life is much more dangerous than the African. I think we get greater excitement in a far better degree here."

"The African beasts are not tamer. But the visibility of game makes the difference. In Africa, it is very much more in longer shots for antelopes and other life. It becomes a much more dangerous pastime shooting at wilder life at close quarters, say 15 or 20 yards, where the quarry has much better chance of killing the hunter."

His Highness said that he thoroughly enjoyed the expedition and added "I am glad to have had a holiday after a lapse of 15 years and to have had no burdens of State during those days."

The Rajapramukh said that altogether he visted six game sanctuaries and collected 17 trophies, the most interesting was a buffalo.

His Highness said "I went abroad to gather some impressions of things in general as well as to find out what they are doing for the preservation of games. So far as games are concerned, I do not think there was anything to be learnt there beyond what has already been done here. Perhaps, their game ordinances are somewhat different from ours and much more to suit their local conditions. But the principle of preservation of wild life is the same there as it is here."

The Indian community in Uganda has shown greater enterprise in developing the industries. He thought Uganda in several respects was similar to Mysore, because they had a very green country like our own besides tremendous natural resources, which they had just started developing. From another point of view, Uganda was the most advanced of three East African territories. The native peoples of the regien were the most politically conscious.

RASHTRAPATHI NILAYAM

President Rajendra Prasad formally took over the possession of Rashtrapathi Nilayam, on Saturday last, in Balarum near Hyderabad The President said that the establishment of a Nilayam here would forge further the links between the South and the North and the East and the West. Hyderabad he said was particularly suited for locating the Rashtrapathi Nilayam because it was a central place, physically and linguistically.

Colour discrimination was most rampant in Kenya, he said but nobody did this sort of thing openly. Yet one could feel it and there were several instances where this discrimination had been practised. But he believed that atleast the newer elements among the settlers were trying to find a compromise so that there might be a United Kenya rather than a Kenya divided according to different colours.

Tanganyika was terribly under-developed and lack of incentive was particularly noticeable.

Nationalisation Of Insurance

NOT DESIRABLE, SAYS BANK CHIEF

Mysore, 16

Mr. B. V. Narayana Reddy, General Manager of the Bank of Mysore strongly criticised the contemplated move of the Central Government for nationalising Insurance and opined that it was a retrograde step. He said it was not desirable in the interest of the counrty and instead of nationalising, he wanted every Government in A and B States to start insurance departments.

He was declaring open the Mysore Government Insurance Department's branch office here yesterday.

Mr. Reddy stated that Insurance was one of the important ways of building up the wealth of the country and anybody insuring was doing a great service to the country. In this connection, he pointed that the rate of insurance per head was only Rs. 1-5 0 in India whereas in America it was Rs. 327. So it was the duty of every patriotic citizen to help in capital formation by insuring himself. He asked the people to "work hard, save hard and give hard" to the country.

Mr. K. Puttaswamy, President of the City Municipal Council presiding paid tributes to theMysore InsuranceCompany for its service to the country and said that the Government should give serious attention to the idea of crop insurance so that ryots who depended mainly on rains might be benefitted intimes of drought.

Earlier, Mr. C. Narasimha Moorthy, Secretary of the Company welcoming traced the history of the company started about 65 years ago. He said that in order to make the company more efficient and attractive, the Government had delegated most of the powers to a Managing Committee. Since the constitution of this committee about three months back, the business had increased. He also stated that the Company would shortly start a pilot scheme of cattle insurance.

Mr. C.B.Shankara Iyer, Joint-Secretary proposed a vote of thanks.

COMPLETE HARTAL IN CITY

PROTEST AGAINST PORTUGUESE BRUTALITY

30 Indian Satyagrahis butchered

Mysore, 17

Mysore city observed total hartal today in sympathy with the martyrs who fell in the cause of Goa Liberation and also as a protest against the Portuguese brutalities on the unarmed Indian satyagrahis.

All the colleges and schools were closed down. Shops and other establishments were also closed.

Students numbering thousands took out a procession through the main thoroughfares on cycles and foot requesting the merchants and others to observe hartal.

In the morning more than five hundred children of the primary and middle schools assembled at the Subbarayanakere maidan to pay their homage to the Indian martyrs and later abstained from attending classes.

In the evening there will be a public meeting in the Townhall at 6 p.m.

Report received here from the Goa Liberation Action Commitee, Belgaum, stated that among the Mysore Satyagrahis who entered Goa on Bandra border, no one was dead but several were injured.

WOE OF SATYAGRAHIS

The death toll in Monday's Portuguese firing on unarmed Indian satyagrahis at various points on the Goa border is now 30.

There are over a hundred injured satyagrahis needing medical attention. Bleeding and unconscious, they have been left in swamps and jungle unattended. The Portuguese police, it is stated, had stopped medical attention being bestowed on them. Battered and starving, many of the volunteers, who were just able to walk, were pushed back to the Indian territory. Others were left to their fate.

Giving an eye-witness account, Dr.Lanka Sundaram, M. P. said that at Banda the Portuguese police fired not only from behind bushes and trees but also sitting on easy chairs. It was a calculated and cold-blooded massacre, he said.

At Caranzol, near Castle Rock, the slaughter of peacefully marching satyagrahis was equally cold-blooded. When satyagrahis numbering 174 marched through a railway tunnel shouting slogans armed Portuguese police stationed at the other end of the tunnel opened fire at the satyagrahis as they came round a bend in the tunnel, catching them completely unawares. After the firing lasted five minutes, the satyagrahis retreated, leaving 14 of their comrades dead inside the tunnel. The satyagrahis later said that only the bend in the tunnel saved practically all of them being mowed down by the fussilade of fire.

At Palye-Aronda border, three satyagrahis were shot down. Pannalal who hoisted the national flag on a temple was shot down dead when he refused to pull down the flag. Later his body was burnt on the spot by the Portuguese police with kerosene and coconut shells.

Mrs. Subhadra Devi of Saugor, who was hit by a Portuguese bullet ou her neck at Bandra is still lying unconscious in Vengurla hospital

A human cordon formed by Messrs. K. M. Jedhe, S. S. Dange, R. K. Khadilkar and Lanka Sundaram could not bar the 'lioness', Smt. Subhadra Devi, from pouncing into the midst of fussilade of bullet shots. When she saw the leader, Chitale falling, she just ran in and caught the falling flag which Chitale was holding. In a flash a bullet hit her in the neck.

Dr. S. S. Satralker, who was in charge of the medical unit on the Castle Rock stated that he had never seen such a horrible scene all his life. The scene of the satyagrahis dying, groaning as they fell to the ground and still chanting "Ham Goa Lenge" would haunt him for the rest of his life. He said bullets were sprayed on the satyagrahis by the Portuguese soliders. Many soldiers were found giggling and laughing as the satyagrahis fell down riddled with bullets.

FIRING IN BOMBAY

As a protest against the brutal massacre of unarmed satyagrahis by the Portuguese, several cities, towns and villages throughout the country observed hartal yesterday.

In Bombay thousands of demonstrators enforced complete hartal in the city. All schools, colleges, business centres were closed. The croud which grew in several thousands stormed the Portuguese Consulate at the place. At Many places the croud become unruly. Later the croud entered the premises of the Bombay Government Secretariat and began noisy demonstration and stone-throwing. The police resorted to lathi charge and a series of tear-gas bursts. But the croud became still uncontrollable and the police opened fire. One person was said to have been seriously injured. Stone throwing and other incidents took places in over 25 places and about 100 people suffered injuries including 20 policemen.

The Bombay Government immediately banned meetings and processions for three days. The situation is said to be under control now.

It is learnt that the processionalists mobed many of the foreign embassy offices and caused some damage.

Similar hartals were also observed in Calcutta, Hyderabad, Nagpur, Surat and Jammu. An angry crowd at Calcutta burst into the house of the Portuguese Consel and seized some cloths and set fire.

INDIA MOURNS FOR GOA MARTYRS

INDIGNATION AGAINST PORTUGUESE BRUTALITY MOUNTS

ECONOMIC BLOCKADE AGAINST GOA

Prime Minister Nehru told the Parliament yesterday that the Portuguese military took seven dead bodies to an unknown destination and immersing the bodies in petrol burnt them.

He said 1711 persons had entered Goa on Aug. 15 and the number that came back was 1701. The total number thus missing was 10, 7 of whom had been shot down and others detained or in hospital in Goa. On the Daman border, he said, 1349 persons had gone in and 1244 had come back including 7 injured. There were 4 persons missing and one dead.

Pandit Nehru also stated that apart from satyagrahis from India who entered Goa, a number of persons including many well known citizens were arrested by the Portuguese at Marma Goa and Bekaen. Batches of Goans of six each offered satyagraha at Marma Goa carrying the Indian flag. They were arrested and beaten severely. There were demonstrations throughout the day. Also on that day, in Goa, considerable number of Indian flags were put up by the citizens.

Seven unarmed Indian volunteers who crossed into Goa near Castlerock were brought to Belgaum yesterday with serious fractures and head injuries. Meanwhile 530 satyagrahis-" heroes of Kankumbi "--also arrived back in Belgaum after marching on foot 30 miles. Severely beaten these brave men who defied bad weather, difficult terrain and the Portuguese bullets, limped back into Belgaum almost completely exhausted.

Narrating their evperiences the satyagrahis, mostly students, stated that the Portuguese fired shots and rained blows on satyagrahis. Two women in the back were slapped and put down on the ground. The volunteers then were marched off to a nearby Police station where they were made to stand to attention till 8 p. m. Then they were stripped off their belongings and taken to a temple and pushed into small hall which could hardly accommodate just about 100 persons. They were refused even water.

Srimathi Shantarao from Nagpur who offered satyagraha taking her one-year old child in her arm at Terekhol has also arrived in Belgaum. She is suffering from after effects of tear-gas and injuries from blows.

Belgaum, the base-camp of the Goa Liberation Movement, yesterday performed the last rites of three martyrs who laid their lives near Castle Rock.

The body of Ramagiri Sadhu, who was killed by Portuguese machine-gun fire, was cremated yesterday in a southern village of Daman. The body was handed over to the local population by the Portuguese authorities.

Nearly 20,000 citizens of Poona attended the funeral of Sirdar Karnal Singh Madhukar, Damodar Choudry and Rajadhu Ahankal, who were killed by Portuguese bullets.

President Rajendra Prasad, speaking at a public reception at Kurnool yesterday, extended his sympathy to the Goa martyrs and declared that the Portuguese could not stay in Goa long and the people of Goa should not lose heart because of a temporary set back.

Calcutta with its 50-lakh people observed yesterday total hartal as a protest against the Portuguese violence on unarmed Indian satyagrahis. Madras Assembly yesterday adjourned without transacting any business as a mark of respect to the memory of satyagrahis who laid down their lives for the liberation of Goa.

Mr.S.Chenniah, President of the Mysore Pradesh Congress Committee, conveying his heartfelt sympathies to the members of the families of those who had laid down their lives, for the cause of Goan freedom states, "the brutal act of the Portuguese deserves severe cundemnation. The Portuguese should see the writing on the wall and be prepared to abide by the verdict of the citizens of Goa. Otherwise the nemesis is sure to overtake them than they imagine."

The Bangalore Corporation at its meeting yesterday passed a resolution condemning the inhuman, indecent and barbaric action of the Portuguese on Indian satyagrahis, and adjurned the meeting for five minutes.

The Government of India, it is understood, proposed to take some additional measures for the peaceful liberation of Goa. It is learnt that economic blockade might be enforced to bring down to some extent the wave of indignation against Portuguese brutalities that has already swept the country.

Mysore, 18

At a public meeting held last evening at the Townhall maidan under the auspices of the local Goa Action Committee, the inhuman and brutal treatment of the Portuguese on unarmed Indian satyagrahis was strongly condemned. Mr. S. S. Sastry presided.

15 MYSORE STUDENT SATYAGRAHIS RETURNED

200 SATYAGRAHIS ENTER GOA TODAY

GOANS APPEAL TO CONTINUE SATYAGRAHA

Mysore 19

Out of the 28 student satyagrahis who had proceeded from Mysore to Savanthavadi to participate in the Goa Satyagraha on Aug. 15 under the leadership of Mr. C. A. Ananthiah, 15 students returned to the city last night.

The remaining 13 students are included in the batch of 200 satyagrahis who are entering Goa today.

It is stated that this Mysore Students' batch was among the 1000 satyagrahis who trecked a distance of 75 miles on foot from Belagaum to Savanthavadi. As all of them were tired and had swollen foot, they were not allowed to offer satyagraha on Ang. 15.

The Sarvajanika Vidyarthi Nilaya Union at a meeting held yesterday, with Mr. B. Krishnamurthy in the chair, offered homage to the Indian martyrs who fell for the Portuguese bullets.

Hundreds of people in Goa have sent a frantic appeal to India not to suspend theSatyagraha for the liberation of Goa. While expressing their profound sorrow and indignation at the massacre of the unarmed satyagrahis from India, those people of Goa have assured that the satyagrahis coming to Goa would hereafter not be alone and they (Goans) would also lay down their lives before the Indian satyagrahis ,were killed by the Portuguese bullets.

A Portuguese police, it is stated, violated Indian territory on Aug. 15 and fired several shots from his Bren gun while on the Indian soil at Caransol. It is stated that he was 15 feet inside Indian territory.

Some of the foreign correspondents who were in Goa watching the satyagraha on Aug. 15 had stated that in their talks with many people they had come to the conclusion that the majority of the people favoured Goa's intigration with India. Most people there had complained of suppression of civil liberties. One of the Portuguese officer informed the pressmen that he wanted an early merger of Goa with India. This officer had said that his wife was, infact, wanting to join the satyagraha against the Portuguese.

At the Press conference with the Governor General one of the correspondents thumped the table in protest when the Governor General mentioned that two people as having been killed. It was after this scene, the Governor General conceded the information on Portuguese having mined the railway line between Castle Rock and Collem.

The Indian Postal Department announced yesterday that money order, and value payable services between India and Portugal enclaves in India had been suspended temporarily with immediate effect.

DIFFICULTIES IN SALES TAX TO BE REMOVED

MINISTER'S ASSURANCE TO MERCHANTS

Mysore, 19

The various difficulties experienced by the merchant community in regard to Sales Tax were brought to the notice of Mr.H.M.Chennabasappa, Industries Minister, at a meeting held last evening at the Townhall. More than 400 merchants representing all trades were present.

Messrs. K. Nandibasappa, M.R.C. Basappa, E. P. Nanjappa, B. S. Tandava Murthy and several others stated that there was no uniformity in interpretation of Act and lot of ambiguity in respect of number of articles whether taxable or not like edible oils. There were also difficulties in maintaining accounts for so many commodities.

They wanted that there should be single-point tax and collection of which should be made at respective toll-gates similar to octroi which would facilitate both merchants and government in collection of tax.

They pleaded for exemption of tax for woodworks in fine arts and rural industries and handicrafts. The merchants insisted that at no cost there should be any cash checking but only stock checking if necessary in assessing tax.

Minister Chennabasappa replying assured them that it was never the intention of Government either to harass or inconvenience merchant community in enforcement of sales tax or any act as a matter of fact. In democracy no law could be brought into effect without consulting public opinion. As such the public or the persons concerned should be ever vigilent and give their opinion before any act was brought into law. However the Minister assured that Government had now realised that there were several difficulties in enforcement of Act and in light of representations made throughout the State, Government would shortly bring measures for obviating those difficulties.

Mr. Chennabasappa stated that Government was ever prepared to repeal this Sales Tax Act provided alternative easy method of collection of Rs.1¼ crores of revenue by sales tax was assured to Government by merchant community.

RESTRICTED IRRIGATION IN VISVESWARAYA CANAL AREA

NOT SUFFICIENT WATER IN K. R. SAGAR RESERVOIR

Mysore, 22

Owing to failure of rains, the water in Krishnarajsagar reservoir was going down and the Government were adopting stringent measures to restrict supply of water for irrigation, said Sri Kadidal Manjappa, Revenue Minister at a press conference yeste:day.

The Minister said that normally at the end of July, the reserviot ought to be full, but owing to the failure of rains in Coorg and malnad areas of Mysore District, the water level today was only 102 feet as against 124 last year. He feared that there was no chance of getting further floods till October. Therefore the Government were taking steps to restrict water supply to the achakat in the Visveswaraya Canal area and had decided to limit paddy cultivation to only 70,000 acres as against 90,000 acres and sugar cultivation to only 12000 acres (3500 acres of fresh and 8500 acres standing). The Government had already issued notices to ryots not to take up fresh transplanting work hereafter.

REVOLT BREWING INSIDE GOA

VIOLENT FREEDOM STRUGGLE TO BE LAUNCHED BY GOANS

A revolt is brewing inside Goa to throw out the Portuguese regime by paralysing completely the Government administration. Thousands of people inside Goa will simultaneously blow off all Government offices, bridges and disrupt the entire communications.

This 'violent freedom struggle' has perturbed Portugal and it is feared that Marshal Law will again be enforced. The growing violent incidents and sporadic cases of attacks on police military and other Government forces have unnerved Portuguese authorities, who are now counting the days of their departure from Goa.

With the 'first phase' of the satyagraha campaign of the Goan freedom movement over, leaders of the National Congress (Goa) and the All-Party Goa Liberation Aid Committee are now busy taking stock of the situation and to decide on future plans for the continuation of the struggle.

The Committee is expected to meet next week for future action.

A total 3646 of Indians joined the satyagraha campaign. Besides those killed 188 of the volunteers suffered injuries requiring hospital treatment. 25 of these had bullet wounds.

The Secretary of the Goa Liberation Committee paid special tributes to the people of Belgaum and Sawantawadi who rose to the occasion when faced with the problem of accommodating and making food arrangements for over 3,600 satyagrahis. He said that nearly 300 girls and women worked round the clock for four days in the camp to cook food for satyagrahis and other households helped by contributing chapatis and other eatables.

Another notable feature was the unity witnessed in all the political parties who joined the campaign. There was no question of any particular party contributing more either in the number of volunteers or sacrifices. Every party lifted the share allotted. Despite the Congress not officially joining the campaign, no less than 200 Congressmen had participated in the Aug 15 programme.

Reports received from Goa testified to the determination of the Goans to end the Portuguese rule. Besides the satyagraha of 36 Goans in Margoa, small groups of Goan nationalists also joined in the programme at Bicholim and Panjim. At many other places the Indian Tricolour was hoisted. The total arrests made during the last few days was 125.

The Bombay Goa Vimochan Samiti has decided to collect Rs. one lakh from Bombay city towards the Goa Satyagraha funds. They have so far collected Rs. 25,000.

Mr. Gudlappa Hallikeri, Bombay M.L.A. and a prominent Congress leader of Karnataka has declared his intention to march into Goa with 1000 satyagrabis on Oct 2, Mahatma Gandhi's birthday.

HARIJAN LEADERS' APPEAL

Mysore, 26

"Mysore will never allow the reopening of Bellary question as urged upon by some Andhra leaders. We will never tolerate Bellary to be tossed up like football". declared Mr. S. Channiah, MPCC President here yesterday.

He was presiding over a conference of city Harijans held at the Town hall.

On behalf of the Harijans Mr. K. Siddiah presented an address to the MPCC Chief with a purse of Rs. 101.

Mr.N. Rachiah, M.P. speaking narrated the various disabilities under which the Harijans were living. He regretted that inspite of our eight years of independence and the directive principles of the constitution that all children up to the age of 14 should be provided with free and compulsory education, no steps so far had been taken to achieve that end. In his opinion education and land were the main problems facing the Harijans today. He appealed to the Centre and State Governments to provide suitable amenities so that the Harijans could stand on their own legs.

. Mr. T. Mariyappa addressing stated that untouchability existed in every caste in the country. He pointed out that there were as many as 800 sub-castes among Brahamins in the country and 2763 different castes in Madhya Pradesh. He also referred to certain peculiar forms of untouchability prevailing in certain parts of the country even today and said that fishermen community in Bengal were considered as untouchables. In Travancore-Cochin among oilmen community the group which manufactured oil was untouchable to the group which sold oil. So he wanted that Harijans should cast off their caste system and inferiority complex if they were to improve themselves.

Messrs G. S. Ramakrishniah and J. Lingiah, Harijan leaders, addressing appealed to the Savarna Hindus to treat the Harijans as their own brotherns by improving their miserable condition.

Mr. S. Channiah stated that the Congress from the beginning was pledged to uplift not only the Harijans but all backward classes and bring about economic equality in the country. He explained the various ameliorative measures undertaken by the Central and State Governments to uplift Harijans. The MPCC President advised them to get rid of their inferiority complex and feel as one with other citizens. He appealed to the Harijans for their unstinted support for Congress to bring about a socialistic pattern of society.

Resolutions were adopted condemning the atrocities and butchery committed by the Portuguese on unarmed satyagrahis on August 15 and extending unanimous support to Prime Minister Nehru's foreign policy with regard to the peaceful liberation of Goa.

Relations Between Bench And Bar

MYSORE CHIEF JUSTICE'S APPEAL

Mysore, 29

The Chief Justice R.Venkataramiah and other judges of the Mysore High Court Messrs. K. N. Padmanabhaiah, Nittor Srinivasa Rao and H. Hombe Gowda were accorded a warm welcome by the members of the Mysore Bar Association, at a party held last vening at the Association premises.

Mr. H. Subba Rao, President of the Association welcoming said that it was a great pride and pleasure to them that at present Mysore High Court was a team of Mysoreans. He requested that civil rules of law governing practice fees should be revised.

Chief Justice Venkataramiah replying thanked the Bar for their warm welcome and said that judges in office could not consider themselves belonging to one particular place or community and they were there to administer justice to one and all.

Chief Justice pointed out that for efficient administration of justice there should be a happy relationship between the Bench and the Bar and said that judges however efficient and clever might be, they could not get on unless they had the goodwill of the Bar. At present there were inumerable acts and litigants were increasing and it was up to the lawyers to smoothen the work so that Court might discharge their duties satisfactorily. He appealed to the members of the Bar to help in maintaining the high standard of the Mysore High Court.

Mr. G. R. Seshadri, Secretary proposed a vote of thanks.

Earlier, Chief Justice Venkataramiah addressing the members of the Sharada Vilas Law College Association stated that there was a strong impression that the study of law was a last reefuge. But this was an unfortunate notion. In his opinion, the law profession was a noble profession. In these days of democracy, he said, study of law was indispensable for every man to live a free life and make contribution to society. The Constitution was there not to be kept as Bible to be worshipped but it should be studied as everyone was a trustee of the Constitution and in this, study of law would greatly help them.

Pilgrimage To Economic Swaraj

Prime Minister Nehru speaking at Shillong yesterday called upon the people to co-operate in the country's " pilgrimage " to economic swaraj. " All the 360 million people of India are pilgrims. They must go hand in hand and work towards the common goal ", he said.

Pandit Nehru stated that India's problems were human problems as many people suffered from poverty and had no clothes "Everyone in this country must have a right to demand food, cloth and housing. This we can only do it by hard work and co-operation."

Exhorting everyone to join in this great endeavour to work for a Welfare State, Prime Minister said "We go up when India goes up and we go down when India goes down."

Pandit Nehru particularly appealed to the youger generation to be more disciplined. Here he regretted that after indpendence, fissiparous tendencies which were destructive to the progress of the nation had made themselves apparent. This had surprised and pained him.

No Re-opening Of Bellary Question

M. P. C. C. 's RESOLUTION

Madhugiri, 29

At the session of the Mysore Pradesh Congress Committee held here yesterday, Mr. S. Chenniah presiding, a resolution was unanimously adopted viewing with great concern the recent agitation for reopening the question of merger of Bellary with Mysore and stating that under no circumstances it should be reopened.

By another resolution, the M. P. C. C. condemned the atrocities of the Portuguese on unarmed satyagrahis and offered its homage to the martyrs who fell for the liberation of Goa.

Another resolution urged all congressmen and congress committees to devote themselves to constructive and development activities and thereby take a direct and active part in the great task of building up the country on a socialistic pattern.

The M. P. C. C. President Chenniah addressing said that organisation unity was quite imperative. After all, the national objective was paramount and individuals did not matter. Neither, he nor Mr. Hanumanthaiya was a permanent fixture either for self-glorification or edification and assured the members that he would strive hard for bringing about harmony and cordiality within the Congress.

Chief Minister Hanumanthaiya speaking paid tributes to Mr. Chenniah for all he had done since his advent as President to maintain the integrity and discipline within the Congress. In a democractic set-up, honest difference of opinion were quite natural, but wisdom lay in eschewing anger and prejudice and approaching problems in a dispassionate manner through discussion. He wholeheartedly supported the unity appeal without any mental reservation

Training Of Technicians

Bangalore 30

The Union Industry Minister Mr. T. T. Krishnamachari announced here yesterday that the Government was thinking of constituting a highpower directorate to work on a war footing to train technicians required in various industrial undertakings, particularly in the proposed steel plants.

Speaking at the Central Board for Small-scale Industries, the Minister said the dearth of technicians was one of the main reasons for the country's inability to make spectacular headway regarding industrialisation particularly in the field of small scale industries.

The State-owned steel plant, he said, would require about 5000 eningeers and 10,000 skilled personnel. That was a great problem.

Mr. Krishnamachari advised the State Governments to concentrate on small-industries to solve to some extent the problem of technicians. They should also start workshops in urban areas to meet local requirements.

He also emphasised the need for giving more encouragement to co-operative institutions in the industrial fields, as was being done in the handloom industry, which was now gathering momentum.

NO STUDENT OF MERIT DENIED SEAT

VICE-CHANCELLOR'S ASSERTION IN ACADEMIC COUNCIL

Mysore, 21

The University Academic Council, yesterday, discussed at length the resolution moved by Mr. N. Srinivasamurthy that admission and appointments in the University should be made mainly on merit.

The mover said that it was unfortunate that throughout the country the standard of university was going down. The only remedy for raising the standard was to restrict admissions by selecting only meritted students.

Mr. Gopalaswamiengar raised a point of order that the resolution was not in order since Academic Council was nothing to do with appointments.

The Vice Chancellor ruled that it did not preclude from discussing the standard of study and teaching.

Mr. Rangiah regretted that there was no standard at all. He said that standards if any were being flouted especially in regard to appointments and in the guise of weightage, unmeritted students and teachers were being admitted and appointed

Dr. Kuppaswamy stated that this raising of standard was a time-honoured subject and at every stage in humanity, they always strived for some standard. During the last 50 years there was a great desire for education and large number of people were coming from villages. Hence it was not a right spirit to think that standard was going down. As a matter of fact knowledge was improving and certainly standard was much better now.

Vice-chancellor Mr. D.'Souza strongly refuted the notion that there was something wrong in the Mysore University and its standard was going down. He said they were aware of their responsibility in keeping on raising the standard. He pointed out that admission to colleges were made carefully and there were rules and procedure to guarantee for a right student to enter college and asserted that every student of merit did get a seat. As regards appointments, he said that all teachers were carefully selected. On the whole there was a high standard in the University, which could be easily compared to other sister Universities.

On this assurance, the mover withdrew his resolution.

Another resolution moved by the same member that a well-equipped department of Hindi be opened in the University was adopted.

The Council also approved the resolution of Mr. Srinivasa Murthy that a full-time Kannada professor in every first grade college and an assistant Kannada professor in every Intermediate college be appointed.

The meeting approved the revised courses of study for M. B. B. S. examination. The new scheme provided for only 4½ years course thus eliminating the pre-medical course.

The Council agreed to relax the condition for non-Indian students domiciled abroad for passing in the second language (Hindi or any other Indian language) for qualifying for a degree in the Mysore University. This was in response to a requisition made by the Government of India to promote cultural relationship between India and other countries by offering scholarships to outsiders to study in Indian Universities.

Homage To Goa Martyrs

While admiting the courage and sacrifice on the part of satyagrahis in offering their lives in the noble cause, the resolution prayed that their souls might rest in peace.

The Council also adopted another resolution expressing their profound grief on the demise of Mr. T. C. Gowdh, former member of the Council.

Referring to the suggestion of the Mayor in his address to amalgamate the Madras, Mysore and Travancore-Cochin States into one administrative unit and call it Dakshina Pradesh, Sri Hanumanthaiya said that if it was necessary for administrative convenience he would not stand in the way. 'But in these days of lingustic fanaticism the idea of a single State was likely to be misunderstood. However, it was interesting to watch the reaction of the people to such a proposal', he added.

No Reopening Of Bellary Issue

MYSORE MLAs MEMORANDUM

Bangalore, 1

Ninety members of the Mysore Legislature have sent a memorandum to the States Reorganisation Commission urging upon them not to reopen the question of the merger of Bellary.

The memorandum stated that the Andhras of Bellary and the Government of Andhra had sought to reopen the question of Bellary on the ground of "an alleged administrative inconvenience of the Tungabhadra Porject". The setting up of the Tungabhadra Project Board by the President had conclusively set at rest all possible and probable, either real or imaginary administrative difficulty in the administration of the project. As such they were absolutely certain that the Commission would not even think of overlooking all these factors and disturb the position of Bellary. "Any such move will embitter the feelings of the people not only of Bellary but also the entire Mysore State. If it is disturbed, there will be no finality to the dispute for generations to come and will only throw open flood gates of disputes and disruption," the memorandum said.

Mr, C. J. Ambli, M. L. A. and President of the Karnatak Pradesh Congress Committee has stated that "it is a dubious move on the part of the Andhras to swallow as much of the Kannada territories as possible and above those Kannada parts of Adoni, Alur and Rayadurg. This means claming entire dam including the catchment area of a different linguistic region. Such claims are fraught with grave national consequences and far-reaching effect."

Proper Precautions In B.C.G. Vaccination

MYSORE CITIZENS' APPEAL TO GOVT.

Mysore, 5

On behalf of the citizens of Mysore, a petition has been sent to the State Health and Education Ministers requesting the Government to give proper instructions when children are B. C. G. vaccinated so that they might not be subjected to any complications and the parents rid of their worries.

The signatories Mr. N. S. Narayana Rao and twenty others state inter alia that neither the parents nor the children were given any prior notice of inoculation; without making an enquiry about the previous health condition of the child the inoculation was carried on indiscriminately on a mass scale without the knowledge of the parents; immediately after inoculation the children were sent home without caring for the sudden after effects of the inoculation, and thus giving room for children feeling giddiness, vomitting, fever, exhaustion, in the streets. Many boys were subjected to complications for which no attention was being paid. This had caused many a parent a lot of mental and unncessary expenditure.

They request that the health authorities who inoculate the children should for atleast a period of one week examine the children in their schools to see if there were any after effects and parents be informed in advance when their children are vaccinated.

Congress Not For Goa Satyagraha

ALL-INDIA CONGRESS COMMITTEE'S DECISION

The All-India Congress Committee yesterday unanimously passed a resolution on Goa disfavouring both mass and individual Satyagraha.

The resolution moved by Dr. B.C.Roy said that after withdrawal of Government's co-operation from Protuguese Government and closure and sealing of borders of thePortuguese possessions in India, any entry into Goan territory by Indian nationals will be inappropriate'.

Appealing to the people for support to Government, viewing the problem "in a national and international context and not on any party basis". the AICC trusted that the Government of India would take "every legitimate step, consistent with their policy of peace to further the cause of the liberation of Goa "

Political prisoners who were kept in jail after conviction in Goa were being brutally treated and beaten every alternate day. Most of the 105 prisoners were now suffering from some sort of ailment and received practially no medical treatment.

The Portuguese Government has decided to prosecute Mr. Tridib Choudhary, M. P., and other leaders now in detention in Goa on charges of violating Portuguese soverignity.

Mrs. Subhadrabai Rao of Sagar, the heroine of the August 15 mass satyagraha has declared that she would again march into Goa on October 2, the anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi. She also intended to take atleast 200 women satyagrahis with her to Goa.

The number of persons who migrated from Portuguese possessions to India during 1954 is Goa 18116, Daman 1500, Diu 4000.

The Government of India have informed the Indian National Dock-Workers' Federation Bombay that they have decided not to give port facilities hereafter to Portuguese ships calling at any Indian port.

Three Portuguese soldiers and a member of the special security police brought from Portugal were sent back because they refused to maltreat satyagrahis. But two policemen who said they were not willing to act according to dictates of the authorities in regard to the treatment of satyagahis were arrested and severely beaten.

Pakistan has agreed to supply about 72,000 bags of rice to Goa. It is stared that the first instalment of 10,000 bags had already reached Goa.

Bombay merchants are reported to be adopting dubious methods to export goods to Goa since there was a ban. These merchants send their consignments to their agents at Aden and from there they are shipped direct to Marmagoa.

Congress Betrays Goa Cause

The members of the Parliament have strongly criticised the AICC resolution on Goa satyagraha and stated that " when all parties were united and were conducting the liberation movement on a national basis, it was regrettable that the ruling party has sought to sabotage the Goa cause without consulting the other parties." The most disquieting feature of the resolution they said, was that the brave people of Goa who had been fighting against Fascist dictatorship would feel suddenly let down by the ruling party.

They have urged the Goan National Congress and the Liberation Committee to immediately call for an emergent meeting at Delhi to decide the future course of action.

The Portuguese authorities have imposed restrictions on the movements of people inside Goa as a bid to suppress the nationalist movement.

From this month, they have prohibited villagers from moving from one village to another without previous permission.

NOT PREPARED TO TOLERATE PORTUGUESE IN GOA

PRIME MINISTER NEHRU'S DECLARATION

Prime Minister Nehru categorically declared that " we are not prepared to tolerate the presence of a foreign colonial power on the mainland of India. We are not prepared to tolerate the presence of the Portuguese in Goa even if the Goans want them there. No foreign power can have any kind of foothold here and it is from that point of view that we look at this Goa question."

Replying to the foreign policy debate in the Parliament yesterday, Prime Minister said that there could be one solution to the Goa problem, namely, Goa getting rid of Portuguese domination and joining India. The latter step, he said, was one for the Goan themselves to decide.

In the existing circumstances, he said, satyagraha, certainly of the mass variety but also of the individual variety was undesirable. It would not help the liberation of Goa, but would come in its way.

Land frontiers with Goa were completely cut off and "the land route is closed not only for human beings, but for goods, commodities and the like." India, Prime Minister said, has been progressively applying economic sanctions for sometime. But complete severance of economic relations could not follow severance of political relations. Now that severance of political relations had taken place; that of economic relations was also taking place.

The Prime Minister stated that he could say with some confidence that forces were at work.-national, international, economic, and others -which "are bringing the solution of Goa problem nearer and will utimately solve it."

Pandit Nehru said a Government could not offer satyagraha against another Government but various other peaceful methods were open. "We have done it progressively, but it takes a little time to have effect."

The Prime Minister said there wereIndians inGoa,mostly miners and those working on the railways and if they wanted to come away, "we shall allow them. Similarly if any Goan in India wants to go, he could go."

SATYAGRAHIS TO BE TURNED BACK

INDIA GOVT'S INSTRUCTION TO BORDER POLICE

The Governments of Bombay and Saurashtra have issued orders to police on Bombay-Goa Daman-Diu borders to stop Indian satyagrahis from entering these Portuguese settlements. This will apply to all Indian satyagrahis, whether going in groups or as individuals.

It is understood that the instructions from the Government to the police officials were to try their best to induce the satyagrahis to turn back and if the volunteers could not be persuaded, then to stop their entry.

A batch of 25 satyagrahis were persuaded by the police yesterday to give up their idea of entering Goa from the Banda side. A second batch was stopped by the police at Belgaum itself.

The Belgaum branch of the All-Party Indian Goa Liberation Aid Committee has declared that the satyagraha by Indians in support of Goa liberation must be continued, although the Government has banned any satyagraha by Indians.

Mr Peter Alvares, National Congress Goa leader has strongly criticised the AICC resolution and said " it is a shock to the freedom movement. In the absence of an alternate positive plan for freedom, it has thrown the safety and lives of Goans to the wolves of Portuguese imperialism." He hoped that the people of India would not desert the movement at this stage.

The Portuguese authorities have ordered all the managements of Hindu temples in Goa to deposit all cash, ornaments, jewellery and other valuables in the Government Bank.

They have also prohibited the movement of persons wearing blankets after dusk.

About 3000 Indian workers employed in manganese mines in Goa are expected to cross into Indian territory within next 48 hours.

It is stated that recently an important official came from Goa to Diu and took away all money in the treasuries, totalling Rs. 4 to 5 lakhs. This is taken as a clear indication that the Portuguese are finding it difficult to run their administration in the enclaves in India and they are trying to concentrate on Goa, leaving the other two possessions of Daman and Diu.

REDISCOVER INDIAN ART AND CULTURE

VICE-CHANCELLOR'S APPEAL

Mysore, 9

Mr V.L.D.'Souza, Vice-Chancellor of Mysore University yesterday called upon the people to "rediscover Indian art, culture and philosophy".

He was inaugurating Varalakshmi Academy Publication Series here at Co-operators' Home.

Mr. Chandrasekhariah, on behalf of theAcademy welcoming explained the object of their scheme. He said that they had undertaken publication of two rare records of music in ancient India. One of them was the Sangeetha Sara by Vidyaranya, founder, of the Vijyanagar Empire. The other was an inscription on a stone in Pudhukota ascribed to King Mahendra Varma I who ruled that territory in the seventh century. It actually dealt with noted music in ancient India and the only document of its kind in the whole world

The Vice-Chancellor complimenting the Mysore Brothers said that research into ancient Indian culture should be encouraged. He regretted that students nowadays were not paying due attention to understanding our culture.

In fact they were so ignorant of the outside world that even students who appeard for the UPSC examination--pick of the intelligentsia--did not know the answers to common questions. For example a student had answered "that Vinobha Bhave was a building in New Delhi in which Nehru was born."

Mr. D'Souza in detail explained the differences between the Western and Indian culture, art and philosophy. The former, he said, never left the earth and was always surrounded by it It was mundain. On the other hand the essence of Indian art, culture and philosophy was the realisation of the infinite.

Mr. B.S. Puttaswamy, Chairman of the State Academy suggested that a standardisation of Ragas in Karnatic music should be attempted. The need, he said, was increasingly felt by the people and it was time that something should be done about it.

Mr. Puttaswamy said that the Government of India was very much interested in the promotion of the fine arts and added that the Sangeet Natak Academy was an eloqent testimony to place real music on a high pedastal.

FILM REVIEW:-

Jagriti

Filmistan's "Jagriti" released here yesterday at Ranjit Talkies is a highly emotional and euducative picture specially for children and students.

It shows that behind children's tendency for making mischief is a potential force, which, if not canalised properly, will prove disastrous to the society and ultimately the Nation and thus teaches a new maxim "spare the rod and preserve the child."

The story centres round that how a boy given to mischiefs and childish pranks, ultimately gives up his frivolities and seriously takes on his studies at the advise of his pal, a lame boy and the guidance of his patient and persuasive teacher, (Abhi Bhattacharya) who believes not in rod but sweet and convincing new ideas.

The plot is simple and very well presented and Director Satyen Bose has certainly deserves compliments for his new and bold job.

Newcomer RajKumar, the bad boy, steals the limelight in his, very first attempt in the cine world and his performance and good looks will soon set him on the highway. Ratan Kumar the boy prodigy, as a lame boy, wins the laurel. His efforts to retain his friend who leaves the school in anger and his ultimate death tn a car accident is highly emotional and brings tears to everyone.

In the supporting roles, Pranoti Gosh, Bipin Ghupta and Mumtaz Begum are impressive.

The inclusion of an excursion trip to Jallianwalla Baug and the historic fortresses of the Rani of Jhansi and Shivaji, is really an educative character.

The photography, dialogue and songs are pleasing.

The management of Ranjit Talkies invited the local pressmen yesterday forPreview and they were received by Mr. Mangubhai Amin and later entertained to Tea.

RAJAPRAMUKH'S TOUR IN AFRICA

Mysore, 10

Addressing the members of local Rotary Club here on Thursday, Mr. K.P. Ramanathiah, Private Secretary to the Rajapramukh gave an interesting talk on His Highness' recent tour in East Africa.

He said that they spent 32 days in Safari camps and12days in visiting national parks, and zoological gardens. The Ugalia river region where they had the first camp, was almost devoid of human habitation except for casual beehunters and primitive fishermen armed with double headed spears.

In their Basuto camp, they saw wildbeasts in plenty. There were primitive tribes living tending their herds and cattle and living on milk, blood and raw meat.

In Yaida swamp camp, they saw tribes living in almost unimaginable squalor and had no clothing except a skin thrown over their shoulders. Whenever any big animal was killed the men and women would crowd into their camps for meat. During their fortnight stay, they saw many lions, rhinos and elephants

Here, he said His Highness shot some buffaloes, rhinos, and other big games. Among African elephants both the male and the female possessed tusks and had enormous ears and longer legs. It is said they could not be tamed.

His Highness also visited Ngorongora, where the Seringeti National Park was situated. The area consisted of a vast volcanic crater 2000 ft. deep and several hundred sq. miles in extent. In the hollow of this crater lay a vast plane with lakes of dried soda-ash which was alive with animals of all varieties. In this area wild tribes were living in huts covered over with leather amidst most filthier surroundings. Their eyes and mouths used to be full of flies.

Revolution By Love

VINOBA BHAVE S MISSION

The sixty-first birthday of Acharya Vinoba Bhave was celebrated throughout the country yesterday when mass spinning, prayers and public meetings were held. In Delhi, President Prasad joined in the mass spinning and prayers at Rajghat.

(61 pear-old Bhave, a disciple of Gandhiji is leading India to economic independence through Sarvodaya. Striding across the sub-continent like a fakir, he asks for land and gets it –in hundreds of thousands of acres and with the goodwill of all.

Vinoba almost unknown till a few years ago, whose one-man crusade based on love and non--violence is now sweeping the country like fire. "I do not know what adjectives I should use for you. Your love and purity of character overwhelm me".

It was in Telangana, Hyderabad, only four years ago when the communists had sought to get the land by force that Vinoba, recluse and scholar, repaired as a messenger of peace and goodwill. In the village of Pachampalli that the idea of Bhoodan Yagna was first born in his mind. There, forty untouchable families told him of their 'misery. If only they had some land, they said. That very evening, at a prayer meeting, Vinoba appealed to the local landlords: "If you had five sons and a sixth were born to you, you would give him a portion of your estate. Treat me then as your sixth son and give me one-sixth of your land, for redistribution to the poor." After a silence one man, the most important landlord rose and offered a hundred acres. The untouchables conferred and came to a decision. 80 acres, two for each family, were all they needed..20 were returned to the donor.

It was this double act of generosity that inspired Land Gifts Mission.

This bespectacled frail ascetic, suffering from a duodenal ulcer and subsisting on yoghourt, walks, sunshine or rain, his 10 or 15 miles a day. He has walked for four years-- nearly 13,000 miles -acquiring 4 million acres of land, gifts from over 3 lakhs people.

Vinoba's appeal is essentially religious. He looks upon all men as children of God and loves them all in equal measures. His travels are,marked by continuous festival. Through the villages, as he walks, the poorest huts are festowned with palm and mango leaves-symbol of good fortunes. He accepts gifts from the rich and the poor. He puts his trust in the inevitable conversion of the heart through love.--UNESCO.)

Worst Colour Bar In Kenya

RAJAPRAMUKH'S IMPRESSIONS

Mysore, 13

" Africa still largely remains an unknown mysterious continent, the terra incognita of the world. Nowhere else is the colour bar so openly seen, felt and practised as in Kenya", said His Highness the Rajapramukh, in a broadcast talk on his " impressions of the East African tour ", from A.I.R Mysore, last night.

The Rajapramukh stated that the outburst of hatred against the white people of Kenya, signified by the Mau Mau rebellion, was largely the result of half a century of accumulated grievances against the white settlers for not having given the people of the land, the Kikuyus, a fair deal. The white settlers, on the other hand, had done nothing to win the confidence of the Africans, to give them some hope that justice would be done. There were many among the settlers as advanced in views and outlook as any they could found among the progressive elements all over the world.

With Jomo Kenyatta and other African leaders in prison, he said, there was no way in which the Kikuyus could be assured of having political acumen given to them to do the right thing by Kenya as a whole. Necessarily the task of healing wounds had to be a slow one. The task needed moral and spiritual strength, some fresh thinking and soul cleansing all round. Land reforms and better distribution of Lands might even at this late moment help a little to smoothen out differences in Kenya. The principle of increasing representation of the African population in the conduct of the Government was being accepted and other attempts were being made to pour oil over troubled waters and to restore peace.

His Highness said that Tanganyika struck him as being in an extremely backward and undeveloped condition. It was really the Black Man's territory and it seemed possible that it might evolve a society which would ultimately provide an alternative to apartheid and thus set an example in racial harmony for the rest of Africa to follow.

The Indian Community in East Africa had grown from strength to strength and they had made themselves useful to Africans in a considerable way. In this they had roused the suspicions of Europeans. But sooner or later Europeans and Africans would realise that Indians were as good as Kenyans as the Europeans claimed to be or as the Africans naturally were.

The Rajapramukh hoped that as these turbulent and agitated years rolled by, a dawn of liberation from the servitude and dependency would arise where the best of Eurasian cultures in interplay with latent African genius would give rise to a new society of East Africans who would play a significant role in the continent's future.

No Propaganda Against Congress

REPLY TO SHOW-CAUSE NOTICE

Mysore, 16

The City Congress Committee had issued a show-cause notice to Messrs. A. Ramanna, Baliah, Gopala Rao and Murli asking them why disciplinary action should not be taken against them for malicious propaganda against the Congress during Congress election to P.C.C. on April 26 last.

All the four persons have sent in their replies to the Show-cause notice denying that they had acted against the Congress discipline.

Mr A. Ramanna in his reply has stated that he has not made any propaganda against the Congress organisation and he would be the second to none in defending the honour and prestige of the organisation.

Regarding the allegation that he through the press resorted to all sorts of propaganda, he has pointed out that the High Command has never stated that newspaper Editors who are also Congressmen should support the policies and actions of the Congress blindly. It is but right that Congress should be criticised whenever it went contrary to the wishes of the people.

There are two groups in ths Congress party in the State which is well known. The official group does not want to retain some members who are in the other group. Just to oust them from the party, they have intentionally resorted these show-cause notices The complaints are willfully hatched with an intention of ousting some of us who seem to be thorns on the smooth way of these complainants. This sort of deeprooted malice, personal prejudices and thirst for power is definitely harmful to the healthy growth of Congress organisation, he said.

Hence, he has appealed to the High Command to conduct a thorough enquiry which would clear up " the cob-webs muddled affairs " of a mighty institution in the State.

NEED FOR GANDHIAN TYPE OF BASIC EDUCATION

CHIEF MINISTER HANUMANTHAIYA'S PLEA

Mysore, 17

Chief Minister Mr. K Hanumanthaiya strongly pleaded for introduction of Gandhian type of Basic education in the country so that they could avoid " Mal-employment ".

He was delivering the inaugural address of the University Teachers' College Association, here last evening.

Mr. A. C. Dave Gowda, Principal of the College welcoming stated that the college started in 1925 with a strength of 30 had now 140 students They had introduced new schemes like basic, nursery and physical education and extension service. The Principal pleaded for the extension of the college building and attaching Nursery and Primary schools for experimental purpose. He also wanted that Government should start another teachers' college at Bangalore to meet the ever increasing need for trained teachers in view of educational reforms in the State. On behalf of the teachers, he assured their full cooperation for State's Bhoodan and Vidyadan movement.

Mr. Hanumanthaiya referred to the educational system and said that in olden days the education was mainly to train a few who could efficiently discharge their duties to the ruler. It was class education and not mass education.

Now under democracy, he said it was not an invidual or a dynasty that was ruling the country. It was the masses and as such they had to provide education for everyone. Here they should see that the commonman was not only vested with sovereignty but also those high qualities which sustained sovereignty. He warned that if they did not adjust themselves to the changing needs of the time, the country would degenerate into a backward Nation and education would become a travesty.

Referring to basic education, the Chief Minister said that Gandhian type of "earn while you learn" should be adopted. He also wanted that manual work and social work should be taken up seriously and made productive as otherwise, he feared, that education might ultimately upset society.

Need For Proper Recreation

RAJAPRAMUKH'S PLEA

Mysore, 26

Presiding over the Akashavani Recreation Club Day at the A.I.R. Mysore, last evening, His Highness the Rajapramukh stressed the need for proper recreation for the people working in the Radio Stations.

There was a large and distinguished gathering including the Education Minister Mr. A. G. Ramachandra Rao and Mr. S. Chenniah, the M.P.C.C. President.

After welcome by Mr. G. P. S. Nayar, Assistant Director, an address was presented to the Rajapramukh by the President of the Club Mr. Ganapathy.

The Secretary Mr. Bhaskara Yesupria presented a report and stated that all the members of the staff numbering 104 were members.

Mr. M. D. Subbanna then read out the names of various prize winners in sports and other competitions held on the occasion.

The Rajapramukh stated that the evolution of the radio as an instrument of instruction and entertainment on a mass scale had added to their (staff) responsibilities. They were required to be meticulously careful in their work, as the results of labours reached a wider public than the printed word ever did. With them there could be no erasures and no after-thoughts once the words, whether of music, talk or news went on the air and reached millions of avid and critical listeners all over the country. The standard to be maintained in their service were therefore high and long hours of this kind of work under split-second schedules were apt to impose a severe strain on them. Such work, he said, needed to be counterbalanced by relaxation and recreation.

His Highness was glad that apart from providing indoor and out-door games the club was also fostering cultural and literary activities. He hoped that the club while continuing to serve its members, would at the same time endevour to serve deserving public causes.

The Rajapramukh finally said "We in Mysore view your imminent transfer to Bangalore as a very sad parting. The Mysore Radio Station, in one form or another, has been with us for nearly twenty years. The expansion of the Station's capacity and other important reasons have made the transfer of the Station to Bangalore desirable and necessary."

Then followed orchestral music and humorous skits.

Mr. Shivaswamy proposed a vote of thanks.

UNREST AMONG YOUTHS

Prime Minister Nehru stated that the sudden changes in India were mainly responsible for the occasional unrest among the younger generation.

He was asked at his press conference whether unemployment was the cause of the occasional signs of unrest and indiscipline among the younger generations.

Mr. Nehru replied, "No. I do not think it is due only to unemployment. You may have read the report of the Calcutta University about conditions of living of students. It is a pretty ghastly report. All these factors are there but I suppose the main thing is the sudden changes in India--the sudden loosening of certain restraints, physical, moral, psychological and all that, and nothing else taking their place. Every society has certain standards and codes of behaviour. They gradually change and are not rigid. It happens as it has happened in India, that the old codes and standards have largely collapsed and no new standards come in to take place quickly enough. Certainly, something will come ultimately, but meanwhile we fall between two stools. It is unfortunate."

UNREST AMONG YOUTHS

Prime Minister Nehru stated that the sudden changes in India were mainly responsible for the occasional unrest among the younger generation.

He was asked at his press conference whether unemployment was the cause of the occasional signs of unrest and indiscipline among the younger generations.

Mr. Nehru replied, "No. I do not think it is due only to unemployment. You may have read the report of the Calcutta University about conditions of living of students. It is a pretty ghastly report. All these factors are there but I suppose the main thing is the sudden changes in India-- the sudden loosening of certain restraints, physical, moral, psychological and all that, and nothing else taking their place. Every society has certain standards and codes of behaviour. They gradually change and are not rigid. It happens as it has happened in India, that the old codes and standards have largely collapsed and no new standards come in to take place quickly enough. Certainly, something will come ultimately, but meanwhile we fall between two stools. It is unfortunate."

Prime Minister Nehru assured that the 267 page report of the States Reorganisation Commission would be released to the public at an early date. "I do not want to keep it a secret document and we have decided not to issue short summaries of it but release the report in toto."

Addressing a mammoth meeting at Madras yesterday, the Prime Minister appealed to the people to approach the recommendations in a 'cool and dispassionate way and not to get terribly excited about them.' Excited people, he said became incapable of thinking and 'I see some people get excited about it, some people have gone on hunger-strike or threaten to go on strike. This is an extraordinary way of dealing with national issue.'

He said that no solution could be put forward which was agreeable to everybody in India, because interests conflicted and views conflicted. Whatever was put forward would be acceptable to some and not acceptable to others. The country had to find a way out and normal conditions must prevail while attempting at settlement and not the method of breaking of heads. He added that the report would be considered no doubt by State Assemblies but it would be for the Parliament to take a final decision.

SAFEGUARD THE COUNTRY'S FREEDOM

PRIME MINISTER NEHRU'S ADVICE

Bangalore, 7

Prime Minister Nehru here cautioned that they should be active and vigilant in safeguarding the freedom.

Addressing a mammoth meeting here last evening at the Central College Cricket Pavilion, the Prime Minister said that it was a 'life force in action that kept a Nation active and virile." Now the State Reorganisation Commission Report would be released in a week, it was essential, he said that the public should not get excited or flitter away their energies in petty squabbles.

He said that " Life is not just living, eating and propagating children. Life is something more. There must be the urge to do something constructive. If we lose that urge, we will fail down. It is that urge that made us free. I think it is that urge that is making us progress and bring life again." Mr. Nehru asked them to realise the great potentialities of India and her greatness and regretted those potentialities were being wasted in internal conflicts, fissiparous bickering and the like. It was essential, he said that atleast hereafter we should take a lesson from the past and decide issues peacefully and democratically and then act with determination.

Referring to the language controversy, the Prime Minister said that the people of the South need not be anxious that Hindi would be foisted on them.

Beautiful environments enable us to develop a sense of beauty."

He also stressed the urgent need for removing slums and said that there was no argument, economic or otherwise, for the existence of slums. He said " I do not mind if a person lived in the open like a vagabond. I am a vagabond myself and I like vagabonds and gypsies. If you cannot design, construct or provide buildings, give them plenty of open space and a few social services like water supply and sanitation. The rest can follow."

DELAY IS BAD

Prime Minister also declared open the Hindustan Tools Factory at Jalahalli. Here he said that apart from efficiency, the time factor was of great importance in task of building up a New India. RECOMMENDATIONS OF S. R. C.

However, it has felt that on the abolition of the institution of Rajapramukhs the rights and privileges enjoyed by the rulers who hold office as Rajapramukhs will not be much affected.

The following are some of the changes proposed in the reconstitution of the various States.

The Kerala State will consist of Travancore-Cochin excluding Agastheeswaram, Thovala, Kalkumul, Vilavancode and Shencottah taluks (which go to Madras) and Malabar districts including Fort-Cochin and Laccadive islands and Kasargod taluk of South Kanara District and Amindive islands.

As regards Hyderabad, the Commission has opined that it is not possible to retain the Hyderabad State as it is. It should be reconstituted as follows keeping in view of the special requirements of the Urdu speaking people of Hyderabad and Secunderabad: Raichur, Gulburga and Marthawada districts to be detached from Hyderabad, the residuary will continue as Hyderabad State consisting Telugu districts of Mehaboobnagar, Warrangal, Karimnagar, Adilabad, Hyderabad and Medak along with Bidar districts and the Mungala enclave belonging to Krishna district of Andhra. This State might go to Andhra after the General Elections in 1961 if two-thirds majority in the Hyderabad State Assembly expresses its favour on such unification.

The Andhra State will continue as it is with addition of Siruguppa, Bellary and Hospet taluks and a portion of the Mallapuram Sub-taluk of the Bellary district which includes the Tungabadhra Project area.

Madras State will continue with the existing territories except the districts of Malabar and South-Kanara and Kollegal taluk. Five taluks from the present T.C-. State will be incorporated in the Madras State. The Commission has stated that there should be no change in the present position regarding Madras City and its future should be regarded as finally settled.

As regards Bombay, the Commission has opined that it should continue as multilingual State with slight alterations. It should be reconstituted so as to include the existing States minus the Abu Road taluk of Banaskantha district and the Kannada speaking areas plus the Marath-speaking areas of Hyderabad and Saurashtra and Cutch.

The new State of Vidarabha will consist of Marathi speaking districts of Madhya Pradesh, namely Bulldana, Akola, Amravati, Yeotmal, Wardha, Nagpur, Bhandara and Chanda.

There is no change in the existing Uttar Pradesh and Orissa.

Pepsu and Himalachal Pradesh will merge in Punjab.

The Chief Minister further stated that there was no difference of opinion either in this House, Cabinet or the country regarding the retention of the three taluks of Bellary in Mysore.

When asked whether the difference of opinion in the Cabinet was responsible for losing parts of Bellary District, Chief Minister said "It does not arise."

MYSORE TO BE MERGED IN KARNATAKA

BELLARY TO BE TRANSFERRED TO ANDHRA

Abolition Of Rajapramukhs' Posts

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE STATES REORGANISATION COMMISSION

The formation of a Karnataka State including the present Mysore State with the Kannada speaking areas of Hyderabad, Madras and Bombay has been recommended by the States Reorganisation Commission.

The Karnataka State, will include the present Mysore State, excluding Bellary, Siruguppa, and Hospet taluks of Bellary Districts, and Mallapuram Sub-Taluk comprising Tungabhabra Project area; Dharwar, Bijapur, North Kanara, Belgaum Districts (excluding Chandgad taluk) of Bombay State; Raichur and Gulbarga Districts of Hyderabad State; South Kanara Disirict (excluding Kasargod Taluk) and Kollegal Taluk of Madras State and Coorg.

The total area of the new Karnataka State will be 72,730 sq, miles with a population of 190 lakhs.

For the transfer of some portions of Bellary district to Andhra, the Commission has stated that they have come to the conclusion that the retention of Kolar district in the Karnataka will be more advantageous than the continuance in it of the eastern portions of the Bellary District. What has weighed them is the cumulative effect of these main considerations, namely, administrative convenience, economic links and the importance of Tungabhdra Project to the Rayalaseema districts of Andhra.

According the official report released today, the Commisson has recommended the division of India into16States in addition to three Centrally administered Areas, viz., Delhi, Manipur and Andamans. The new States are Madras, Kerala, Karnataka, Hyderabad, Andhra, Bombay, Vidarbha, Madhya Pradesh, Punjab, Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, West Bengal. Assam, Orissa and Jammu-Kashmir.

As regards the merger of Coorg with Karnataka, the Commission has suggested that a concession should be made for the claim to a distinct individuality of Coorg. It should be demarcated as a seperate District of the prospective Karnataka State,

The Commission has opined that the reorganisation of States on mere linguistic or cultural basis was neither practicable nor possible, but should be done on the basis of administrative, economic and geographical considerations. Under no circumstances the country's unity should be ignored.

They have also stated that the idea of "one language and one state" should never be encouraged and that idea should be removed from the minds of the people. They have also recommended that wherever there are people speaking different languages in a State, protection should be given to their language, culture and education.

The Commission has recommended the abolition of the existing A, B, C, States, all the B States to be converted as A States.

As regards C States the Commission has said the present formation is not at all satisfactory. These small States are backward and financially dificient. From the administrative and political point of view also, they are unstable. Hence they have recommended that all C States should merge with the neighbouring States excepting Delhi and Manipur to be under the direct administeration of the Centre.

The Commission has recommended the abolition of the posts of Rajapramukhs in the country as it is opposed to democratic principales.

BELLARY TRANSFER DISAPPOINTING

Mysore, 11

Dr. Nagan Gowda, Minister for Agriculture has said that State Reorganisation Commission's recommendations pertaining-to Bellary "is disappointing and not warranted on facts."

In a statement issued yesterday, the Minister said at the time of the passing ct the Andhra Bill Government of India took into consideration previous reports including that of Mr. Justice Misra and announced so far as Bellary District was concerned the issue was finally settled.

He said perhaps no part of the country was subjected to so many enquiries as this 'unfortunate area' of Bellary District. Arguments adduced by the Commission to support their views "bristle with many inconsistent stands." This was one of the surpises of the report. He hoped that the Government of India would not accept the recommendations of the Commission regarding Bellary District.

Hartal at Bellary

College and high School students in Bellary town did not appear for examinations, yesterday, and observed hartal to show their disapproval to the recommendations of the States Body transferring parts of Bellary which form parts of Mysore to Andhra. The students took out procession raising slogans 'Bellary is Karnataka.'

In Belgaum student processionists protesting against inclusion of major part of the district with Belgaum City in Karnataka clashed with rival demonstrators. Police entered the scene and fired tear gas shells and made a lathi charge and restored order. Six persons were reported to have been injured. Section 144 has been promulgated banning meetings and processions.

MYSORE TO REMAIN A SEPERATE STATE-A.G.R

Mysore, 11

Mysore Education Minister, Sri A. G. Ramachandra Rao strongly criticised the recommendations of the States Reorganisation Commission for not having recommended two Karnatakas and for having taken away portions of Bellary from Mysore.

He said the slogan of "one State and one language" was losing ground and if two Karnatakas were formed one with Mysore and the other with North Karnataka the latter would have satisfaction of having a State of their own. Mysore has earned a reputation as an advanced State and this was because it had a good administration as also benign rule of Maharajas. Mr. Rao was afraid that if Karnataka was formed the name of Mysore would be afaced from the map of India. He asked the people to agitate in a peaceful and disciplined manner for retaining Mysore as a seperate State.

The Minister expressd this opinion when he was delivering the inaugural address of the Sarvajanika Students' Hostel Association,

Retention of Mysore

Says-Gurupadaswamy

Mysore, 11

Sri M. S. Gurupadaswamy, M. P. welcoming the report of the States Reorganisation Commission has said that in spite of minor injustices it was broadly acceptable. He said there was no justification for reopening of Bellary issue after Justice Misra's award and the Prime Minister had expressed it as final. Sri Gurupadaswamy opined that viewing from normal procedure involving in implementing the report, it was not possible to hold elections according to schedule.

To a further question the Minister said that all possible action was being taken to suppress this vice and a seperate Vice-Squad had been set up.

When asked whether any Rescue Home was started in Mysore and Bangalore the Minister said 'notice'.

When asked whether the Government was aware that the police were really not carrying on the duty in this respect, but it was only an eye-wash, the Minister replied that as the very facts revealed by the Hon. Member should as a matter of fact commend the action of the police.

To a further question the Minister admitted that it had come to the notice of the Government that in certain hotels this vice was being carried on.

Q-Mr. Veerannagowda: When there is less population in Mysore City whey there was so much of offence?

A. It Shows the efficiency of the Mysore City police.

Q Has the Government found out whether this vice was mainly due to the economic reasons?

A.- We will investigate.

There was a volley of questions regarding the licence issued to a firm in Bangalore for rectified spirit.

Mr.N.C.Nagia Reddy asked whether it had come to the notice of the Government that nearly 12,000 gallons of rectified spirit had been smuggled to Bombay?

Mr. Channiah, Minister for Health, said that he was not aware of it.

When asked whether this rectified spirit instead of being used for drugs, was being misused as alchohol, there was no reply from the Minister.

Replying to Mr. V. R. Naidu Chief Minister said that the Government were time to time considering the question of enhancing the salaries of N.G.Os.

When asked whether the Government had determined to enchance the salaries of the poor N.G.Os the Chief Minister said that the report of the Pay Structure Committeee was awaited.

After question time the Speaker ruled out a motion sent by Mr. Mulka Govinda Reddy seeking to discuss the situation arising out the States Reorgonisation Commission recommendations as applicable to Mysore on the ground that no sudden emergency had arisen.

NATIONALISATION OF GOLD MINES

Mysore, 11

The Home Minister Sri H. Siddaveerappa told the Mysore Legislative Assembly yesterday that the State had not received any advice from the Centre on the question of nationalisation of Kolar Gold Mines, that they could double the royalty instead of nationalising that industry.

The Minister who was replying to interpellations of Sri H. C. Linga Reddy, during question time said that on the other hand the Centre had asked them to proceed on the basis that nationalisation would take place.

To another question the Minister informed that the Government were in close touch with the developments rigarding nationalisation of GoldMines and theGovernment had been assured that mining companies would do nothing detrimental to future mining operations.

Why Rajapramukhs Should Go?

The States Reorganisation Commission while dealing the problem of abolition of the institution of the Rajpramukhs has stated:

'The position and the role of the Rajapramukhs in Part B States are more or less the same as those of the Governors in Part A States, both being constitutional heads. While the Governor of a State is appointed by the President, the Rajapramukh has been defined in relation to Hyderabad and Mysore as the person who for the time being is recognised as the Nizam and the Maharaja and in relation to any other state as the person recognised, by the President as such. Likewise, a Governor can be removed from office by the President, recognition can be withdrawn from Rajapramukh.

The Report further says. "The institution has a political aspect and large section of public opinion view its continuance with disfavour on the ground that it ill accords with the essentially democratic framework of the country. We feel that the constitutional head of a State should not, generally speaking, be a resident of that State. The Rajapramukh being ex-hypothesi a person having deep rooted local interests and influence, his position as the constitutional head of a State is altogether anomalous".

'In view of the past associations of the Rajapramukhs with the territories of which they were hereditary rulers, it is doubtful if they can effectively discharge the essential functions of the constitutional head of a State either from the Government of India or from that of the State Government concerned. Besides, apart from its undemocratic character, the institution of Rajapramukh tends to maintain, even where it does not create, loyalty, which, in our opinion, are undesirable. We would, therefore, recommend that this institution be abolished.

The Rajapramukhs in the country at present are: the Nizam the Rajapramukh of Hyderabad;Maharaja of Jaipur-Rajasthan; The Maharaja of Mysore-Mysore; The Maharaja of Patiala-PEPSU; the Maharaja of Travancore-Travancore-Cochin; The Jam Saheb of Nawanagar-Saurashtra.

As already stated the Government had given instructions to the mining authorities not to take any detrimental action.

Whether the Government was aware that the Chairman of the Mining Board (Mr. M. A. Srinivasan) was carrying on a virrulant campaign against the Government's proposed nationalisation scheme, the Minister replied "Yes."

OPPOSITION FOR MERGER OF MYSORE IN KARNATAKA

Mysore 12

Sharp differences of opinion has emerged in the Mysore Cabinet on the recommendations of the States Reorganisation Commission Three Ministers--Messrs A. G, Ramachandra Rao, Kadidal Manjappa and T. Channiah have, in a joint statement opposed Mysore's merger in the United Karnataka

The Ministers in a statement said" The States reorganisation Commission's proposals for Mysore deny to Mysore what has been conceded by them to Hyde-abad and Vidarbha. These two new States with lesser population than Mysore have emerged and taken shape in their picture of future India. But Mysore which has been assiduously built by its great rulers for decades enjoying the reputation of being a model State, has been effaced from the all-India picture. Even the continuance of its name has been denied to her. It is submerged in a backward area much larger than itself. The progress and development of Mysore under such auspices will be stunted and retarded. In short, the proposals are detrimental to Mysore. It may be noted that besides other factors, the compactness of Mysore has been responsible for its remakable progress and development. The people of Mysore are demanding that the Kannada area should be divided into two States: (1) Mysore with Kannada areas lying in the east and west of it and, (2) The Kannada areas lying to the north of Mysore (which may be called Karnataka). These two States will be almost equal in area and population and viability. They will bring peace, prosperity and happiness to both of them and they will be a source of strength to India. It is deeply regretted that Bellary is to be dissected and a moiety of it transferred to Andhra."

Mr J.Mohamed Imam, leader of the Opposition in Mysore Assembly commenting on SRC Report stated "the most unfortunate part of the recommendations is the snatching away from Mysore of the three taluks of Hospet, Bellary and Siruguppa. This recommendation, if implemented will lead to serious repercussions".

Mr. N. Madhava Rao, former Dewan of Mysore said that the recommendations of the Commission were likely to raise more problems than they would solve and to offend the susceptibilities of more people than they would satisfy. He opined that wholesale re-drawing of State boundaries would be most inopportune at present as it would unsettle administration and distract attention of the country from pressing problems.

NO INFRINGEMENT OF JOINT RESPONSIBILITY

MINISTERS DEFEND STATEMENT ON SRC REPORT

Mysore, 14

The Mysore Legislative Assembly today discussed the question of admissibility of the adjournment motion tabled by Mr. Mohammed Imam about the situation arising out of the statement issued by three Ministers in respect of States Reorganisation Commission in violation of the principles of joint responsibility and showing sharp differences of opinion in the Cabinet.

The mover Mr. Imam pointing out the urgency and the public importance of the issue stated that this was the first time a situation had arisen where the Ministers had revolted against their Cabinet colleagues, thus infringing the principles of collective responsiblity.

In a Parliamentary system of Government, he said, there should be healthy convention and there should not be any defiance by the Ministers to their leader.

Mr. Imam further said that the public were greatly purturbed over this crisis in the Cabinet. The Chief Minister on opening day of the Session had remarked that there was no split in the Cabinet and his reaction to the S.R.C. Report was "Cool, calm and happy." But within 48 hours there was a surprise of a militant attitude taken by the three Ministers. The House and the public were very much concerned over this. Happiness and wellbeing of the country depended upon the Cabinet and when there was a split among the Ministers, the mover asked, how there could be any peace in the country.

Mr. Imam added that the Ministers had no individual freedom to express their opinion against the decision of the Cabinet If there were differences, either the Ministers should resign or the Chief Minister should remove them. Otherwise the administration would be in danger. This infringement of collective responsibility had created a great tension and commotion in the country and as such the motion should be admitted.

On behalf of the Government Minister Kadidal Manjappa opposing stated, that on this S R C. issue there should be every opportunity to every one of them to express his views in democratic and peaceful manner. The State Cabinet had not taken a decision on this question and as such the individual opinion expressed by the Chief Minister or other Ministers were not intended to pledge the entire Cabinet. As the final decision vested in the Parliament, individual Minister, were at liberty to express their views. Therefore there was no infringement of the principles of collective responsibility. There was always been homogeneity and support to the leader in the Cabinet and therefore the adjournment motion was inadmissible.

Chief Minister Hanumanthiah stated that there was no urgency in this matter and it was technically inadmissible and politically unhelpful. He pointed out that these Ministers had expressed their opinion earlier, long before and as such the motion deprived of urgency and element of recent occurrence.

On the question of expressing the views before the Fact Finding Committee, freedom of opinion had been given to the members and that freedom was excercised by Ministers also. As such there was no breach of convention. Since no decision had been taken by the Cabinet on this issue, the question of violating the collective responsibility did not arise. He said that the very nature of the reorganisation of States was a problem that concerned everyone and there was bound to be differences of opinion They should all look this question from nationalistic and patriotic point of view and every individual, be a Minister or not had every right to express his opinion. He pointed out that there was absolute homogeneity in the Cabinet.

The Speaker announced that he had reserved his ruling.

Civic Reception to PSP leaders

Mysore, 17

The City Municipal Council accorded this morning a reception in honour of Acharya Kripalani and Sri Asokha Mehta, leaders of the Praja Socialist Party, who are here in connection with the Party's National Executive meeting.

Sri K.Puttaswamy, President of the Council welcoming the guests said that it was an unique function to give a reception to the leaders of the freedom movement, who were the great citizens of India.

Acharya Kripalani replying on behalf of the PSP leaders said "Your existence as a small unit in the country would perhaps be submerged by proposals made by the States Reorganisation Commission. I have nothing to say about that. But I think that we have more and more small States instead of big ones, so that we might undertake experiments in Governments and learn from each other. But that would mean a revolutionary reorientation of the politics in India." He hoped "wherever you are you will keep up your tradition."

Referring to the Congress policy of making India a socialist pattern of society, Sri Kripalani said that this should be first tried in municipalities which he said should take over all social services, provide primary education and employment. The experiment could be followed up throughout the country. Municipalities of India had a great future if they knew what they should do. As far as municipal work was concerned, politicians should clear off their hands and allow joint effort by all parties. Atleast so far as village panchayets and municipalities were concerned. Sri Kripalani appealed "let us all unite and work for the upliftment of the masses."

The Executive paid homage to the martyrs in the Goa and Daman freedom fight on August 15 and deplored the savage sentences imposed on nonviolant satyagrahis and expressed confidence that their silent sufferings would inspire others to continue the struggle for the liberation of the foreign pockets on Indian Soil

In the Mysore Legislative Assembly, during the question-time today, Home Minister Siddaveerappa told Mr. B. Narayanaswamy that further investigation in Drayton Murder Case had not been given up. But so far they had not been able to find any definite clue because of the lack of direct evidence. He was not able to say when the investigation would be closed as in certain cases even after ten years investigation had been taken up.

To a supplementary the Miniater said that details of expenditure could not be given.

To a question whether the Chief Minister visited a person at Bangalore and a sum of Rs. 5000 was announced as a reward for getting information in the Drayton Murder Case, the Chief Minister replied in the negative.

The Home Minister also stated that a person who was rumoured to be involved in the case was found to be innocent after investigation by the Scotland Yard.

Industries Minister Channabasappa informed Mr. B. Narayanaswamy that 388cases were launched for default of payment of sales-tax in Mysore City in 1954-55 and 12 cases ended in conviction and Rs. 910 was recovered by way of fine for default.

Minister Nagan Gowda told Mr. Imam that the Government did not intend taking action to delete the rule of excluding advocates from appearing before the Asst. Registrar or Registrar in disputes under Mysore Co-operative Societies Act.

Answering to supplementaries the Minister said that if this provision was deleted, there would be a lot of complications. Only when the cases had been taken to the Civil Courts provision had been given to advocates to appear.

After question-hour, Home Minister Siddaveerappa brought to the notice of the Chair that publication based on newspapers' report could not form subject matter of questions or supplementaries in the House. Mysore, 17

Mr. Peter Alvares, President of the Goa Vimochana Samiti, declared here today that it would assume mass satyagraha so as to bring pressure on the Government of India to change their decision regarding participation of Indian Satyagrahis for Goa liberation.

Nearly 3000 Goans had been arrested and over 150 persons sent to Jail. By the very A. I. C. C. resolution "the black deeds of the Portuguese will be blacker still."

QUESTIONS IN ASSEMBLY

Kripalani Views Goa Problem

Mysore, 18

Acharya Kripalani, P S P. leader, declared here today that unless the Government of India reoriented their present policy, the question of freedom of Goa would indefinitely be postponed. He said in a press conference that the economic sanctions taken by the Government of India had hit hard the people of Goa rather than the Portuguese Government. In his opinion if the eoonomic sanction was to be successful, the sea and air-routers should be stopped. He also opined that diplomatic pressure never succeeded against a dictator and he was afraid that Major Powers like England, France, and America would not use their diplomatic pressure, because they had colonial possessions.

When asked whether it was possible to remove poverty immediately, Acharya said it would have been possible but for the mistakes committed by the ruling party. He said that they should have economised expenditure on administration after power was transferred to them, and ought to have fixed the maximum salary at Rs. 2000. There was also lack of emphasis on Swadeshi and delay in bringing land reforms. He also criticised the Industrial policy of theGovernment.

When asked what would happen to India if Congress ruled for another 15 years, Acharya said "disastrous."

To a quesrion whether he would rejoin Congress he said, "I am so paralysed that I cannot move towards Congress."

Referring to the rebel group, Mr. Kripalani said that he was prepared to follow Dr. Lohia if he was able to deliver goods.

NATIONALISATION OF K. G. F. MINES

ASSEMBLY ENDORSES GOVT.'S DECISION

Mysore, 18

The Mysore Assembly unanimously adopted yesterday a non-official resolution moved by Mr. S. Gopala Gowda (P.S.P.) that Government should take necessary steps immediately to nationalise the Kolar Gold Mines at a first step towards realisation of a socialistic pattern of society. Messrs Srinivasa Iyengar, Linga Reddy and Bheemappa Naik supported the resolution. The latter pointed out the hostile attitude of the Company's Chairman Sri M. A. Sreenivasan and regretted that a son of the soil should carry on open propaganda against the Government decision. He appealed to him to stop this campaign otherwise he would lose the love and respect of his countrymen

Home Minister Sri Siddaveerappa in replying stated that he was in an unusual position of accepting in toto a resolution moved by a member who did not belong to the ruling party. He pointed out that the Government were taking all necessary steps to implement their decision and now they were busy in collecting details. The Mining Company had asked for a few weeks time for supplying necessary information. Of course the Mysore Government were aware that for implementing the dscision President's assent was necessary and he was sure that the Government of India would accord their permission. He also assured that the Government had no desire to expropriate any property and all reasonable compensation will be paid.

The Chief Minister said that he was happy for the unanimous opinion expressed on an issue of a naticnal importance which would give added strength to the Government in implementing their decision, Such an achievement, he said, would make democracy a success. He was in full agreement with the spirit of the resolution and requested the House to accept the resolution.

Another resolution moved by Sri K. Prabhakar that Hostels be started for Scheduled Caste students undertaking industrial and technical studies was withdrawn on the assurance given by the Chief Minister that necessary facilities would be provided to Scheduled Caste students for their studies.

The resolution of Mr. Muddaramiah that Government should execute the works of tanks and channels in maidan areas with a view to permanently remove famine without considering return from such works was also withdrawn on the assurance given by the Government that steps were being taken by them to undertake such works by them selves.

Govt. Against Transfer Of Bellary

Mysore, 19

The retention of three taluks of Bellary in Mysore loomed large in the Mysore Legislative Assembly today during the question hour.

Chief Minister Hanumanthaiya informed Sri Mohammed Imam and Sri R.K. Prasad that the Government wrote a letter to the Chairman of the States Reorganisation Commission when Press reports appeared that the Commission was likely to recommend the tranfer of these parts to Andhra, urging on them that they should be retained in Mysore alone.

When asked why Bellary issue was alone referred to and not merger of Mysore with Karnataka. Chief Minister replied that because Bellary issue was not controversial.

To a further question Mr. Hanumanthiya said that the House had taken a decision earlier unanimously welcoming the merger of Bellary and unless that decision was reversed by the House, Government was perfectly right in presuming that there was unanimity on this issue.

When asked whether this subject would be taken up at the ensuing Chief Ministers' Conference, Mr.Hanumanthaiya replied that he had no idea. He also added that this issue was not discussed when the Andhra Chief Minister visited Bangalore recently.

To a question whether Mysore Government did not place their proper views on Bellary before the States Reorganisation Cemmission, Mr. Hanumanthaiya said that it was a question of one-sided propoganda.

Chief Minister said that reports of the S. R. C. would be supplied to the members and after a fortnight a special Session would be called for to discuss the report.

Chief Minister informed the House that specific orders had been issued regarding the work of menial staff in the Government for offices and residence of officers and if these rules were violated, action would be taken when brought to the notice of the Government.

Education Minister A. G. Ramachandra Rao informed Mr. R. Muniswamiah that the present Adikarnataka Girls' Boarding Home in the city would be shortly shifted to a better place.

PSP Welcomes SRC Report

Mysore, 19

The National Executive of the Praja Socialist Party concluding its four-day session adopted a resolution welcoming the States Reorganisation Commission's Report "in so far as it fulfills in the case of most of the provinces the legitimate aspirations of the people for the reorganisation of the existing States on the linguistic basis."

The Executive felt happy that in the recommendation for the linguistic redistribution of the States, the Commission had not lost sight of the overriding consideration of unity of the country and had rightly stressed the provisions which would assure the linguistic minorities and backward areas in different States full opportunities for their free growth and development.

Since the Commission's Report was not an award but recommendations, the Executive had allowed the provincial branches of the Party to carry on agitation if need be but warned that it should be conducted by peaceful and democractic methods with the approval of the Executive.

As far the boundary issues, the Executive was not in favour of any agitation.

The National Executive by another resolution had asked its members to spare no efforts to tone up the party machinery so as to make it a powerful instrument of socialism and to fight for the rights of the common people.

MINISTERS' ABSENCE OBJECTED IN ASSEMBLY

Mysore, 22

After question time in the Legislative Assembly today Messrs S. Srinivasa Iyengar, BhimappaNaik, Gopala Gowda, Mohammed Imam and others brought to the notice of the Speaker that Ministers were "disappearing one by one" from the House without informing. It was the convention that all Ministers should be present in the House. They expected that the Minister who had the personal knowledge should give replies during the question time and not others. Although there might be collective responsibility, they would not have collective knowledge.

Education Minister A. G. Ramachandra Rao replying stated that the Chief Minister and two other Ministers Messrs Siddaveerappa and Kadidal Manjappa had gone to Delhi on a call received from the Union Home Minister. This they had informed to the Speaker and they had gone there on Government work and not on private work. Since there was joint responsibility, one Minister might reply in the absence of the other, he said.

The Speaker said that technically any Minister could give reply, but it was always better that the concerned Minister who was in touch with the subject should give replies. The House was supreme and as such the Ministers owed a duty to the House. As such in future the Ministers should appraise the House for their absence.

MAINTENANCE OF TANKS

During the question time, Industries Minister Channabasappa in the absence of Revenue Minister informed Mr Siddiah that there were 2,665 major and 22,225 minor tanks in the State, out of which 56 major tanks were under the control of the Public Works Department. The Minister admitted that the condition of many tanks under P.W.D. was deteriorating for want of annual repairs and this was due to non-cooperation of the ryots. The Minister added that if the ryots came forward to discharge their duties and obligations, the question of P.W.D. taking over the maintenance of all tanks would be considered.

TRAINING FOR NURSES

Assembly Discusses State's Second Plan

Mysore, 22

The Legislative Assembly today discussed the State's Second Five Year Plan totalling Rs. 85 crores.

Minister A. G. Ramachandra Rao moving the Draft Plan for consideration stated that the Planning Commission had provided more funds to Mysore (instead of Rs. 57 crores on basis of population) in view of very good progress made during First Plan period. They had also assured that more funds would be made available if progress under Sharavathi Hydro-Electric Project was satisfactory.

Many members suggested for postponement of discussion as details of financial implications had not been furnished and also demanded to know whether proposals were made on the basis of financial resources of State.

Mr. A. G. Ramachandra Rao, Education Minister, replying stated that the State Government was carrying on negotiations with Union Finance Ministry for providing finances for Second Plan. Besides they had internal resources and raising of loans and added that the State had the strength to put through the plan into action. Hence he requested the members to give their suggestions on the plan which would help the Government to finalise it.

TOTAL PROHIBITION IN THE COUNTRY

The report of the Prohibition Enquiry Committee, it is learnt, would be made available to the public early next week.

One of the members, Sri Kodanda Rao of Servants of India Society, it is learnt, has submitted a dissenting note urging that rationing of liquor should be undertaken before enforcing total prohibition.

The report according to observers, comes at a particularly unpropitious time for its implementation, when the country had to face mobilisation of resources for the Second Five Year Plan and also attend for implementation of the States Reorganisation Schemes.

It is felt doubtful whether total prohibition could be enforced before April 1958.

TOTAL PROHIBITION BY 1958

ENQUIRY COMMITTEE'S RECOMMENDATION

The Prohibition Enquiry Committee appointed by the Government of India has recommended that the target date for completing nationwide Prohibition should be April, 1958.

The Committee has suggested a uniform national policy in the matter of prohibition.

The Committee points out that there is strong support for such a nationwide prohibition policy in every State it visited and also a demand for putting that policy into effect as early as possible. "We are of the opinion that in order to focus the attention of all States to this end and to mobilise popular sympathy in favour of prohibition, it is necessary to fix a definite target date for bringing into effect complete prohibition throughout the country", the Committee adds.

The Committee affirms, "prohibition is not only a sound policy but also a practical proposition. The aim should be to promote nationwide prohibition and to achieve better and more lasting results through effective implementation."

TheCommittee further recommends that by the end of the current year State Governments may declare their acceptance of this policy and the target date and thus prepare the public to fully co-operate in the fulfilment of the prohibition programme. It suggests that a clear cut statement may also be issued by the Union Government to the effect that prohibition has become the national policy of the Government.

Among other things, the Committee suggests:

In the States which have not made a beginning yet towards prohibition and in the wet areas of partial prohibition States, there should be complete stoppage of drinking in hotels,bars,restaurants,messes, clubs, cinemas, parties and functions.

Abstinence should be made a rule of conduct for Government servants and it should be incorporated in the Service Rules.

The number of liquor shops should be progressively reduced and closed for an increasing number of days in a week.

As the Defence Services have expressed their willingness to fall in line with the policy of nationwide prohibition, no favourable treatment is necessary for them.

No permits should be issued on health grounds. The term of the permits issued at present should cease after the target period. Small quantities of liquor and opium may be permitted by duly constituted Boards at the State and district level.

Enforcement of prohibition should proceed on two definite lines: educative and preventive; legal and administrative.

Prohibition should be an integral part of the Second Five Year Plan.

No additional taxation measures should be directly linked with prohibition.

Sri P. Kodanda Rao, a member of the Committee in a minute of dissent has suggested rationing to individuals for life, if only as a phase towards prohibitton should be adopted.

NO MAJOR CHANGES IN SRC RECOMMENDATIONS

Bangalore 26

Chief Minister Hanumanthaiya has stated that it would be every difficult to substantially change the reorganisation proposals that have been made by the Commission, but there might be a modification or two in the general pattern of the SRC report.

The Chief Minister who returned from Delhi after attending the States' Chief Ministers' Conference said:

"Taking note of the differing views in Mysore State, I have been earnestly attempting to bring about an agreement and a harmonious atmosphere. I have not so far succeeded. But I want to persistently pursue this course. I therefore did not express any particular view at the Chief Ministers' Conference. I said there that I am trying to reconcile the two points of view and ultimately bring about good feelings and unanimity. The Congress President is coming to Mysore State this week. With his help all of us here in Mysore State have to strive for achieving unanimity. That is, in substance, what I said at the Conference."

"I earnestly represented the case of the three Taluks of Bellary and Kasargode taluk of South Kanara District. I have also put forward the cases of the people of Hosur Taluk in Salem District and of Madakasira Taluk in Anantapur District as they were placed before me by the two delegations the other day."

BRING UNIVERSITIES INTO CLOSE TOUCH WITH PEOPLE

THACKER'S ADVICE AT CONVOCATION

Mysore, 27

The need for bringing the Universities into closer touch with the people was stressed by Prof. M. S. Thacker, Director of CSIR in his convocation address.

The thirty-sixth convocation of the Mysore University was held this morning at the Crawford Hall, His Highness the Chancellor presiding.

Prof. Thacker in the course of his address said "the acid test of university education is the extent to which it has contributed to the preservation of those eternal values which alone make life worth living. In the ultimate analysis, the purpose of higher education would be fulfilled only if it enlarges and sustains human values. If it leads only to the fashioning of weapons of destruction, to the spreading of hatred and bitterness, and if it contributes, as in some countries, to the spread of race hatred and irrational discrimination between man, then I say, in all earnestness, it would be a good day for humanity if the universities are closed down. In the scramble for power and prosperity, there is the danger of ignoring, and even forgetting, the meaning and essence of life. A university should promote the pursuit of science for the good it confers on the human race and for inculcating the spirit of objective thinking".

HUMANISTIC IDEAL

Referring to the relative emphasis in our universities on humanities and sciences, Prof. Thacker said "To a country like ours, which has entered the comity of materially advanced nations at a somewhat late stage, the problem is of some importance. We have seen the springing up, in different parts of the country, a number of institutes in which applied research is being encouraged and fostered. This spectacular enlargement of facilities for research has provided vast opportunities for young men and women to pursue objective enquiry in various branches of science and technology. These institutes which have a great part to play in the economic development of the country depend for their personnel on universities, which are traditionally the fountain sources for the discovery and training of the nation's talent. The universities will have to accept this responsibility."

The speaker emphasised that the concept of humanistic ideal which the universities should propagate was far more important than the teaching of traditional humanistic subjects. While it was true that these subjects offered rich opportunities for the development of the ideal they had in view, there was no conflict between humanities and sciences. The concept of the humanistic ideal touched the spirit as well as the body, and emphasised the development of the whole man inclusive of his special skills-artistic, mechanical, industrial and professional. In educating students into maturity and citizenship, every element in the university curriculum had to make its fullest contribution.

DISCIPLINE AND SELF-RESTRAINT

Referring to the problem of indiscipline among students, he said " it is only a passing phase and is an indication of exuberance of youth. There is no gainsaying, however, that discipline in the sense of self-restraint and voluntary acceptance of rules in the interests of the community as a whole is absolutely vital for progress." He appealed to the students to realise that they had a noble and responsible part to play in the India of the future. They should equip themselves fully to play their parts as citizens of a great country by consciously and deliberately developing qualities of self-control and restraint.

About language controversy, he suggested the setting up of an academy of scholars to undertake the task of translating works of literature from Hindi into South Indian languages and vice versa.

EDUCATION AND LEADERSHIP

One of the functions of higher education, he said is to train the youth for leadership. It is from the ranks of university scholars that leaders generally emerge.

That the part-time system of training in our Universities should be expanded. It is necessary that the worker who is engaged throughout the day in the task of winning his bread, should be given an opportunity to obtain university education in his spare time. Some universities offer such facilities in a limited number of subjects. There is need, however, to extend these courses to cover a larger range of subjects.

Another method which might be tried in India is the Politechnic system of education. It should be possible to democratise education without lowering standards. Higher education should be brought within the reach of everyone who is fit to receive it, whether or not he is in a position to afford it.

Universities, he said, are much more than cloistered monasteries catering to the needs of a limited number of individuals. Universities should be brought into closer touch with the people by means of extension lectures, vacation seminars, etc. It should be possible to establish closer links between the universities on the one hand and industries on the other; university men might visit industrial undertakings and factories and see how ideas are being transformed into goods and commodities, while the busy factory chemist or engineer might occasionally visit universities and equip himself with information on the latest advances in his specialised field and generally gain an under-standing of the fundamental aspects, which must never be lost sight of even by those engaged in the practical applications of science and technology.

The exercise of franchise in a democracy vests a citizen with new responsibilities and calls for an informed understanding of the social, economic and political factors operating in the progress of the nation. Universities would render great service by instituting course of study in civics and citizenship.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Speaking about the employment opportunities for educated men he said "there is apparently a lack of co-ordination between universities and industry; either the universities do not understand the needs of industry or the universities do not provide the kind of training required by industry. In any case, it is necessary to examine the curricula of universities and, if necessary, recast them to make them more realistic"

"There is need for a shift of emphasis from Government service to private employment and the professions. In the new atmosphere of freedom, when obstacles to economic development have disappeared, industry should absorb at a faster rate than the universities can produce, all the educated and trained personnel."

Turning to the new graduates prof. Thacker said "Whatever the call, everyone should be guided by devotion to duty and the determination to uphold high professional standards. The university has equipped you, young men and women, to play your part ably and nobly. What you have learnt and what is even more important, the training you have obtained during the eventful years of your life in the simulating atmosphere of the university which enables you to learn hereafter, would help you in acquitting yourselves creditably as worthy citizens of our motherland."

CALM THINKING AND DETERMINED ACTION

CONGRESS PRESIDENT'S CALL TO NATION

Mysore, 28

The Congress President Mr.U.N.Dhebar declared here yesterday that the days for slogans and propaganda were over and it was now for calm thinking and determined action.

He also appealed to the people to consider problems arising from the recommendations of States Reorganisation Commission in their proper perspective.

Mr. Dhebar was addressing a public meeting at the Townhall last evening. Mr. B Narayanaswamy, President of the City Congress welcomed the Congress Chief.

The Congress President stated that India along with the rest of the world was changing rather fast and they were in a dynamic age The conservative tendency to sit tight was not correct. This,he said, did not mean that people should not have opinions of their own But they should be related to the existing times

The stage of one kind of struggle was over and they were now entering another stage of struggle. The problem of redrawing the map of the country was of a more complex and stupendous kind calling for calm thinking and determined action.

He said whenever there was a conflict between personal interest and national duty, the first impulse was to serve oneself. It was necessary to change this kind of thinking when engaged in the work of the country.

Mr. Dhebar pointed out that the persons who had made recommendations were not Congressmen and they had no political ambition to serve. Therefore it was the duty of everyone to consider respectfully their proposals although they might differ from them.

He stated that he sympathised with those who were agitated over this problem. He had himself uudergone this experience about 8 years back when there was a change in his State. So he asked the people to consider this issue in their proper perspective and translate nationalism into actual fact. They should all place the country first, society next, family third and themselves last. People also should look up this big question from the aspect of Socialistic pattern of society.

The Congress President assured people that this question of reorganisation of States was being considered by them " very very " earnestly.

Finally Mr. Dhebar said " your sentiment and wishes will have a place. But they have to be considered from a broad and wider structure. A great destiny is awaiting our country. A false consideration may end in danger."

CIVIC ADDRESS

Replying to the civic address presented by the local Municipality, the Congress President stated that they were in a crucial stage. Mysore being pioneer State in many ways, he was sure that it would show a way in solving this crisis also.

India, he said was now faced with another trial--re casting the map of the country from the point of the needs of the future. It was a great thing to see that people were taking interest in their future. It was also a pleasing sight to see in Mysore that there was a little animation, argument and agitation.

There were two ways--persuation or compulsion--for recasting the map of the great country. For the last 40 years they were experimenting by persuation and had achieved freedom through this So he did not feel pessimistic at all to solve this great problem by persuation. He was sure that issue of reorganisation of States would be solved peacefully.

Referring to the Municipal work, Mr. Dhebar said that the problem of water supply, drainage and slum clearing was exercising the minds of every Municipality and he was sure that the Planning Commission and the Government of India would find means to extend financial assistance.

MEETING CONGRESS WORKERS

Mr. Dhebar who met the Congress workers at the City Congress Office stated that the most important issues that were facing the Organisation were removal of conflict between caste and community, tightening up of poor links in various social institutions like position of minorities and women and the youth problem.

The Congress President also said that eighty percent of the difficulties of the leaders was that they did not take workers into confidence. He hoped that his co-workers would strive their best for setting up a new social and economic set up.

Mr. Dhebar later visited the Dasara Exhibition and also Brindavan Gardens.

He left for Hassan this morning.

Decentralisation of Power

VINOB BHAVE'S PLEA

Acharya Vinob Bhave had pleaded for early decentralisation of administration so that even a village unit should have its own self-Governmet.

Addressing a post-prayer meeting at Waltair, Acharya said that authority and power were now getting concentrated in the Chief Minister at State level and the Prime Minister at the Union Government level. It was a 'dangerous thing' for the administration of State or the country to depend on one single man's goodness or badness.

As it was, he said, "the kind of education and type of medicine one should have were being ordained by the Government because of their power and authority. This was too much and education should be completely divorced from Government authority. People should be allowed to choose the type of education they should have instead of Government forcing text books they want, on the people."

Referring to the too much allegiance to Western thought and ideas prevalent in the country, Acharya said Indian Constitution itself, drawn on the Western pattern, was not suitable to Indian conditions and genius. Necessary alterations must be made in the Constitution so that it could accommodate itself more and more of Indian trends, he said.

For India with its five lakhs of villages, administration should be conceived at village level and it should not flow from far off seat of the Union Government at Delhi, he added.

READERS' FORUM:

BODY BEAUTIFUL COMPETITION

Sir,

I witnessed the Body-Beautiful Competition held on Oct 24 at the Dasara Exhibition. The first thing that surprised me was the presence of only one Judge. The Body-Beautiful competition everywhere is an adjunct of weight-lifting competition and means the best developed physique. Yet, in this competition, no one seems to have bothered to take the measurements of the competitors, nor seemed to have attached the least importance to muscular delineations or body symmetry.

The receipient of this title himself failed to secure at the same competition and with the same Judge the first place in his height class. Is it not paradoxical that the second place holder should be adjudged Mr. Mysore with the first prize winner present at his side? Judging best physique is at all times a difficult matter and required a panel of judges. Besides if a professional director of a Physical Institute is appointed to be Judge, he himself cannot be blamed if preconceived likes and dislikes operate prejudicially.

Will the Exhibition authorities note atleast for future guidance that a panel of non-institutional judges be asked to judge in as objective manner as possible?

SYSTEM OF FAMILY DOCTORS

Shivmoga, 31

Dr. Sushila Nayar, Speaker of the Delhi Assembly has suggested popularising the system of family doctors.

Inaugurating the 24th annual conference of the Mysore Medical Association here, she said that the present Employees State Insurance Scheme was not the proper method as it had many loopholes. She wanted the choice of the doctor to be left to the family. She said that it was most important that some kind of health insurance be evolved under which the doctor should be paid a fixed sum for looking after a family.

She also wanted active co-existence of the various systems of medicine and strict adherence to the medical ethics and serious efforts to keep up the professional standards from the point of view of efficiency and dissemination of the knowledge of the recent advance made in the field of medicine.

INDUSTRIES FAIR

Prime Minister Nehru declaring open the Industries Fair at Delhi, described as the biggest ever held in Asia and the biggest put up anywhere since World War II said that the world had to find "a balance between the God and the devil in the big machine, extricate the Godlike qualities in it and not allow the devilish qualities in it to overcome us."

Today, he said there was a struggle in people's minds everywhere about ideals and objectives. Those were the countries which were in the happy position of having satisfied the primary needs of life. So for as countries like India were concerned, the primary needs such as food, clothing, housing, health and education, still remained to be satisfied.

22 countries, both of the communist and non-communist blocks, are participating in the fair.

The exhibition is spread over an are of 80 acres. The buildings and structural arrangements alone have costed Rs. five crores. No rough estimate is ventured of the goods displayed, which is believed to run into crores of rupees.

In a pavailion covering an area of 60,000 sq.feet are displayed models, maps and photographs of various enterprises run by the Government of India.

India's ancient handicrafts are being televised for the first time in India by the television station set up in the American pavilion at the fair.

A statue of Lenin adrons the arch-like entrance to the Soviet pavilion.

The star attraction in the section are the plantarium for astronomical studies and a glass man. The glassman designed to show the working of the human body can, it is claimed, talk in six languages.

READERS' FORUM:

APPOINTMENT OF WELFARE OFFICERS

Sir,

The authorities of Hindustan Aircraft, Bangalore invited applications for the post of Labour Welfare Officers from candidates fulfilling the conditions of Welfare Officers' (recruitment and conditions of service) Rules 1951 of Mysore Government. But to my surprise and disappointment, the authorities have selected and appointed two labour welfare officers who do not fulfil the conditions of the rules. It is a great injustice for the candidates who by virtue of their qualifications, are specially suited for those posts.

I request, the Government of Mysore should see that the rules which it has framed are adhered strictly. Otherwise it would certainly reflect upon the administration of Mysore Government.

NEW BANGALORE RADIO STATION INAUGURATED

Bangalore, 2

The new 50 k.w. All-India Radio Station was inaugurated here this evening at Cubbon House by Dr. B. V. Keskar, Union Minister for Information and Broadcasting.

His Highness the Rajapramukh presiding over the function stated that the station now inaugurated was one of the oldest as it was only a continuation of the Mysore Station in a magnified form and inherited its artistes and its traditions.

Paying a tribute to Mysore Radio Station, which was in existence since two decades, the Rajapramukh said that from an entirely local institution, it became part of an All India network with its policies and programmes shaped by considerations other than purely local.

His Highness said that the radio had ceased to be a merely novelty. Radio had evolved into a potent means of education and enlightenment, in addition to being a source of excellent and varied entertainment. The best in our culture could reach out to the millions through the music and talks from radio stations. The masses had taken enthusiastically to the radio as could be seen by the rise in the number of community receiving sets. A whole new world was opened for the village dwellers through the radio.

It was also significant, he said that the number of broadcast receiver licenses of all types issued in 1954 was over 9 lakhs. This was an index of the responsiveness of the public to what the AIR sent out from its broadcasting stations. The AIR had done much to earn the gratitude of the people. The inauguration of a powerful medium-wave station at Bangalore was but another example of their beneficent activity. He was sure that those in charge of this station would make the Bangalore Station an example for all radio stations, in the excellence and diversity of its programmes.

Good-bye To Mysore Akashavani

Mysore, 2

With a sad heart, we are bidding good-bye to Mysore Akashavani, which closed down today at 3 p.m.

The Mysore Radio Station started two decades ago as a private institution thanks to Dr. M.V. Gopalaswamy, served the people of Mysore well with its varied entertainment programmes. It was then located at his house in Vontikoppal. Later the Mysore Government took it over and housed in the present Exhibition buildings. After a few years, it was transferred to the new building in Vanivilaspuram as a full-fledged station. On Nov 1, 1949, the Government of India took over the Station and it became Mysore AIR.

The Mysore Station had earned a reputation for its varied programmes particularly for villagers and radio play and music which was highly appreciated by people.

Although this old station had ended, still it was a consoling factor that its many-sided activities would be continued in the new powerful medium-wave station at Bangalore to serve the people of the entire Karnataka.

ANOTHER BHOODAN MOVEMENT IN STATE

FOR GIVING MID-DAY MEALS TO CHILDREN

Mysore, 4

The Education Minister Mr. A. G. Ramachandra Rao stated here that the Mysore Government was thinking of starting another movement to get more lands for supply of mid-day meals to all schools in the State.

He was addressing the Headmasters' Seminar of 4 States which concluded its four-week session at Yelwal yesterday.

Mr. Ramacnandra Rao said that Education was the problems of problems and key to all the problems. Whatever progress the country had to make it had to make through education. He stated that giving training in citizenship to students would go a long way in helping the students to realise their responsibalities to the country.

Referring to the increase of salary of teachers, the Minister told that if the Mysore Government increased the salary by one rupee per month it would cost them Rs. 2½ lakhs more per month. Financial stringency had alone prevented the Government for giving immediate attention to this. Referring to midday meals to school- going children the Minister said that it could not be provided for lack of money. The land grants would enable these schools to cope with the expenditure and the State Government was just thinking to have another movement to get more lands for this purpose, he added.

Finally, the Minister pointed out that it was the duty of the Headmasters to come into contact with the pupil to lead them in the right way.

★ Hindi Classes have been opened for the benefit of office-going people at Madari Shala here in Mysore City.

DECISION IN LABOUR MINISTERS CONFERENCE

The proposal of setting up of councils of management with workers representatives has received the general support of the Labour Ministers Conference which is having its sesion at Hyderabad.

The Conference also considered the desirabality of abolishing the trade of rickshaw pulling by human beings and decided that the aim should be to abolish it as it was injurious to the health and dignity of human beings. As a first step it was suggested to stop the issue of fresh licences and to frame regulations for improving the working condition of the present ones.

Transfer of employment exchanges and craftsmen training centres to the control of the State Governments and setting up of a Trade Certification Board consisting of representatives of Union and State Governments and Employers and workers organisations were also recommended.

The Conference also suggested that greater emphasis should be placed on the security of employment and setting up of welfare funds by ths levy of a welfare cess.

MYSORE MINISTER SUGGESTS HIGH POWER COMMISSION

DASARA EXHIBITION CONCLUDES

Mysore, 7

Mr. H. M. Chennabasappa, Industries Minister paying a tribute to the Mysore Dasara Exhibition said "it is the pride of our State and is an indication of our progress".

He was distributing prizes to the various competitors and stall holders of the Exhibition which concluded yesterday.

Mr. S. Muninanjappa, Vice-Chairman of the Exhibition Committee welcoming presented a report which stated that nearly four lakhs of people visited the Exhibition and the total gate collection was Rs, 77,910 as against Rs. 59,919 last year. He also stated that proposals had been sent to the Government for making the Exhibition a permanent feature throughout the year.

The Industries Minister stated that during these 66 years of its life, the Exhibition maintained a very steady and continuous pace of progress. Its contribution to the social, economic and cultural advancement of the people of Mysore in particular and of India in general was something immeasurable. Here he pointed out that an exhibition was no longer a mere place of amusement or business but it was an academy of audio-visual education. It was a place where the best talents, skill, ingenuity and capacity of our people in science and art were displayed. He congragulated the authorities for making this year's Exhibition more attractive and useful to the public.

Mr. Chennabasappa said that our country's progress depended on how they used their talents and here he appealed to businessmen, industrialists and others to putforth their best to create wealth for the benefit of themselves and the nation.

The Minister pointed out that India's greatest asset was its man-power. So their planframe must be such as to provide full employment both to the under-employed and unemployed. Their hope for a solution to this problem lay in the industrialisation of the country. The industrial plan should be such as to meet our needs and correctly fit into our socio-economic structure. The large-scale industries should make the fullest use of the small scale and village industries so as to create the maximum employment potential. Here he pointed out that the policy of taxing products of large scale industries to subsidise those of small scale and cottage industries was not an effective and permanent remedy. This aspect, he said should be examined in all its bearings with a view to see if it was not possible to demarcate and specify the lines of production so that both the types of industries could function and developed in their own spheres without conflict and clash of interests.

The Minister then referred to the relationship between capital and labour and said their ultimate object was to make the workers contented and happy and to make them feel that they were interested participants in the undertakings. At the same time the interests of capital should not be ignored. It had to be safeguarded in the interest of the State as well as labour itself. Here he suggested that the Government of India should appoint a high Power Commission to assess the results and suggest ways and means for improvement.

Finally, Mr. Chennabasappa pointed out the magnitude of task that was before them and said illiteracy, ignorance and poverty had to be fought and casteism and untouchability had to be eliminated. The under employed and unemployed had to be fully employed in gainful occupation. Social and economic justice had to be secured to the people. This could not be achieved without great sacrifices. He hoped that our people would rise to the occasion and make any secrifices that might be needed to the cause of our country.

Mr. V. S. Krishna Iyer, the General Secretary proposed the vote of thanks.

RETAIN MYSORE RAJAPRAMUKH

URSUS APPEAL TO UNION GOVERNMENT

Mysore, 8

A memorandum on behalf of the Arasu Community submitted to the Union President, Vice-President, Prime Minister, Home Minister has urged the retention of the institution of Rajapramukh in Mysore.

The memorandum stated that the Royal dynasty of Mysore which was founded more than 500 years ago had consolidated and extended the State of Mysore by distinguished rulers. Mysore had always been a progressive State. This progress was largely due to the farsightedness and wise statesmanship of the rulers.

Mysore rulers had been constitutional from the very beginning. Long before the advent of the Indian Constitution democratic institutions like the Representative Assembly and the Legislative Council had been constituted and they were functioning ever since.

The Memorandum refuted the suggestions made in the SRC report that public opinion was not in favour of retaining the Rajapramukhs. 'Permit us to say that this is quite contrary to facts in Mysore. The people of Mysore are in favour of retaining the institution of Rajapramukh. Every one in the State has strongly expressed the opinion that Mysore Rajapramukh should continue.'

The Memorandum pointed out that the Rajapramukh did not belong to any political party nor had he identified himself with any.

Lastly the Memorandum brought to the notice of the Union Government that proposals for the abolition of the institution of the Rajapramukh had led to dissensions and disunity among the people of the State.

The signatories to the memoramdum are: Messrs K. Basavaraj Urs, H. Niranjanraj Urs, A. L. Chennaraj Urs, M. L. Raje Urs, D. C. Nanjaraj Bahadur and S. Devaraj Urs.

TRAFFICKING IN WOMEN

MORE PREVENTIVE STEPS TO CHECK IT--SUGGESTS COMMITTEE

The Social and Moral Hygiene Advisory Committee appointed by the Central Social Welfare Board in their report observes that prostitution exists in some form or other either openly or in disguised form throughout the country. The enforcement of the law for the suppression of immoral traffic has been weak. The operators of the nefarious trade more often escape the clutches of the law and the most frequently used technique is the one relating to 'soliciting.'

Though prostitution is regarded primarily as an urban problem, as many as 66 5 % of such women come from rural areas; the age group of prostitutes falls between 10 and 29 years on the average. The Committee points out the causes that lead to prostitution and says that 55.4 % is due to economic stress, 27.7 % is due to domestic disharmony, inadequacy, illtreatment, deseration, widow-hood, etc. and 16.9 % is due to certain social and religions practices obtaining in some communities.

" The question of prostitution cannot be considered except in the context of national progress, full employment, economic advancement, social justice and the general raising of the standards of life of all sections of our people, Questions of social reform. opportunities for gainful employment and removal of social injustices must be considered. The Committee feels that the question of exploitation of women and girls, which is the main subject of their enquiry, is so closely linked up with prostitution generally, that it is not possible to suggest measures to wipe out the one without taking into consideration the other factors that expose them to such exploitation. "

The Commitee suggests greater emphasis on preventive steps rather than on detection and punishment. Vigilance squads should consist partly of the police and partly of the local citizens. They should be suitably trained for the work. Other suggestions of the Committee include: (a) ensuring uniformity of law and strengthening it, b) provision of an inter-state police organisation (c) provision of a special police squad far both preventive and enforcement work, d) licensing and inspection of institutions caring for women and girls and (e) after-care work which should be a statutory obligation of the State Government.

There should be district shelters with adequate staff including the probation officers for each district to which destitute women may be sent for immediate shelter. The State should provide for the care and training of convicted offenders. In addition, Remand Homes to be run by the State Governments have also been suggested.

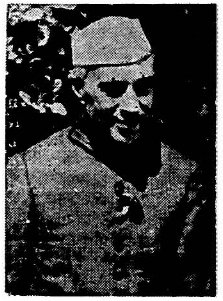
Many Happy Returns To Nehru



On the 66th birthday of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, the Nation wishes him many happy returns.

Throughout the country this day is celebrated as Children's Day as a fitting tribute to Nehru's love for children.

SECRET BEHIND NEHRU'S PERSONALITY

What is the power behind Nehru's personality, that he should become an institution and reign supreme for over three decades.

His strength lies in his popularity as a national hero, above all party politics and everyday controversies.

The heavy demands of statecraft, the cares of the Congress Party and personal popularity have all combined to subject him to high pressure work from morning till late in the night all round the year.

Despite the arduous attention demanded of him daily, Nehru manages to keep himself abreast with latest publications-Indian, English or American--that relate to current topics.

Immediately after a frugal breakfast, Nehru can be found at his desk in the External Affairs Ministry as early as 8.30 in the morning, if not earlier. Nehru's early office hours as also his late sittings have been a headache to the innumerable officers who have found it defficult to cope with his pace.

As though this were not enough, to every diatinguished foreign visitor a meeting with Nehru has become a 'must' even superseding the traditional visit to the Taj Mahal.

But nothing must interfere with his plans to get out of the capital--which he sometimes calls "the Ivory Tower"-meet the people, mix with the common man, talk to him and thus get to know the pulse of the nation at first hand.

About the food, he has never been particular about the timing nor the type. As he has so often remarked, it is not food that he looks to for energy. It is work and more work. Not long ago he confessed to a student gathering that he has rarely fallen ill, does not believe in taking medicines, or any of the modern cure-all vitamins, and that the "secret" of his healthy life lay in regular morning exercises, regular life and hard work

Nehru has preserved in him a remarkable capacity to relax by detaching himself completely from the cares of office at any time, though such occasions are few and far between. He finds the fascination of playing with young children irresistible. Many a time he is said to have left his personal guards (an imposition by the Home Department on him which Nehru detests) by running after a child playing hide-and-seek in his spacious garden.

It is this same attachment to children that he extends to pets in the house.

SATTA GAMBLING

Mysore, 4

Raju and 10 others were arrested yesterday night in Devamba Agrahar for satta Gambling. Rs 140-13-0 was recovered.

Though a radical in his approach to social problems, Nehru is essentially known as a 'no charge' in his conduct of personal affairs. His dress models and other personal requirements, even to the last detail of tooth paste or tooth pic, he has not changed over decades.--Sunday Standard.

MYSORE AND KARNATAKA PROTAGONISTS CLASH

DISTURBANCE AT TOWNHALL MEETING IN CITY

Mysore, 16

Protagonists of Mysore and Karnataka assembled at the Townhall premises last night clashed and the police had to intervene for restoring peace.

At 6 p. m. students numbering about 25 to 30 assembled at the Townhall Flag staff premises and were shouting Pro-Karnataka slogans holding a National Flag. This was protested by a few pro Mysore people. Then a person snatched away the National Flag and ran away, which resulted in great commotion and people ran after him. With the greatest difficulty the Police pacified the crowd and dispersed them. The police, it is stated, took the person into custody afterwards.

Then the meeting of the pro-Mysore people began at 6-45 p. m. near the Townhall steps under the presidentship of Mr. T. Narayana. Messrs. Niranjanaraj Urs, A. Ramanna, Kodandarama Pillay, Kale Gowda and M. C. Narasimiah addressed the gathering protesting against the SRC recommendations for the formation of Karnataka with Mysore.

In the meanwhile anti-Mysore section approached the dias and wanted to speak but were prevented. Then they mixed with the crowd and repeatedly began to shout pro-Karnataka slogans and tried to prevent the meeting not to proceed. This created anger among the large section of people and they shouted down these demonstrators. When the tension grew the police intervened and pacified the crowd.

The anti-Mysore demonstrators also wanted the meeting to protest against the flag-snatching incident. This also created some commotion and confusion.

The meeting later adopted rasolutions strongly protesting against the recommendations of the SRC merging Mysore with Karnataka, insisting upon the Government of India to retain Mysore 'as it is' and safeguarding the status and previliges of the Mysore Maharaja.

Again this morning anti-Mysore and anti-Karnataka demonstrators went round the city in separate batches shouting slogans. In 100-ft road there was a clash between the two parties. The police arrived at the spot and restored peace.

RETENTION OF MYSORE CRITICISED

Mysore, 16

Mr M. S. Gurupadaswamy, M. P. today described the agitation "Mysore for Mysoreans" as "narrow and prejudicial."

Meeting the Pressmen here, he said that the consensus opinion among the leaders in Delhi was for the United Karnataka. The Congress Working Committee gave only time for the leaders of Karnataka and Mysore just to enable them to come to an agreement for accepting the UnitedKarnataka.

He criticised the statement of the Minister A.G.Ramachandra Rao for his plea for the retention of Mysore and said that it was 'fallcious'. As a matter of fact Mysore would gain in the long run by joining the Karnataka as evidenced by the opinion of expert economists

Mr Gurpadaswamy appealed to the people of Mysore to raise above narrow mindedness and prejudiced outlook and feel oneness with India.

Here he pointed out that the agitation should be for inclusion of other Kannada speaking areas like three taluks of Bidar, Sholapur, Madakashira, Talawadi, Kasargode and Bellary taluks affecting the life of 30 lakhs of Kannadigas.

Criticising the attitude taken by the Congress regarding the SRC recommandations, Mr. Gurupadaswamy said that it should not be viewed as a party affair but reorganisation of the country was a matter affecting people as a whole and therefore he urged for an all-party leaders' meeting to be convened by the Prime Minister on the eve of the Parliament session.

RETENTION OF MYSORE

Bangalore, 16

Sri A. G. Ramachandra Rao, Education Minister, who was in Delhi last week to press the demand for ratention of Mysore as a State has expressed confidence that a right solution of the problem would emerge shortly and has appealed the public to avoid agitational approach, bitterness in discussion and imputation of motives.

In a statement, Sri Ramachandra Rao stated that he earnestly urged before the great leaders at Delhi the continuance of Mysore with the addition of South Canara, Coorg and Kollegal and the formation of a separate Karnataka State comprising the Kannada areas lying to the north of the Mysore State. The formation of these compact States would not only minimise the evils of linguism but also amicably settle the numerous administrative, social, cultural and economic issues involved in the problems and that the two units would be pillars of strength in the Indian Union; the continuance of the present Bellary District intact by setting aside the proposed transfer of the three taluks to Andhra as proposed by the SRC; and a fair and just settlement of the issue of the Rajapramukh of Mysore.

The Minister stated that the discussions revealed that there was earnest consideration and sympathy of the leaders on the issues of this complex problem. In conclusion he said that a constructive approach with wisdom, foresight and equanimity were the need of the hour.

CALL FOR DECENTRALISATION

Union President Rajendra Prasad expressed concern at the growing tendency towards centralisation and concentration in the life and administration of the country, and made an earnest plea for decentralisation if they were to avert the problems attendant on modern industrial city life.

Speaking at Madras, he doubted whether there was any use of talking 'at this stage' of decentralisation as at present moment 'our face is turned towards centralisation and concentration.' Dr. Prasad however added he was 'not without hope'. "Time will come soon", he said "when we shall realise the difficulties and problems that lie ahead and we shall not only turn back to the slogan 'back to the village' but give effect to it."

WELCOME 90 LAKHS OF KANNADIGAS

HANUMANTHAIYA'S APPEAL TO MYSORE PEOPLE

Bangalore, 17

Chief Minister Mr. Hanumanthaiya made a fervent appeal to the people of Mysore to welcome the 90 lakhs of Kannadigas living outside who were desirous of joining Mysore.

Mr. Hanumanthaiya also suggested that the new State should be named as Mysore State with a view to maintaining the composite character of Mysore.

He was speaking at the Mysore Legislative Assembly yesterday when the House took up consideration of the SRC recommendations.

The Chief Minister said the House should consider the question of reorganisation a of States not as problem pertaining to Mysore alone but a question relating to the country as a whole. The question of reorganisation of Kannada areas depended upon not only Mysore, but also on opinion of the legislatures of Bombay, Madras, Hyderabad and Coorg. It would not be proper to say that Mysore's opinion alone should weigh. For that stand, there would be no political justification or constitutional sanction.

He said it was important to remember that all the 2.25 crores of Kannadigas were Indians first. Of those nearly one crore of people residing outside Mysore State were eager to join Mysore. He would state that the Central Government and Parliament were convinced that the SRC had reflected the hopes and desires of the Kannadigas outside Mysore. Even if there was a decision with a majority of two votes against the Report, he would humbly say that Parliament would only accept the SRC Report.

What was now happening, he said, was that the territories cut asunder by the British from Mysore were being restored. It was in the nature of a baby-calf running to its mother. There was nothing unjust in this.

The Chief Minister said though the name of Mysore had been there for over 600 years, the boundaries had changed many times. Another historical event was now changing the frontiers of Mysore. That was an occasion for rejoicing and not to strain one's own feelings.

Finally, Mr. Hanumanthaiya said " Without our asking people of Bellary came to us. Similarly 90 lakhs of people are willing to join Mysore. I request you with folded hands to extend the same warm welcome to the 90 lakhs of people residing outside Mysore as you did in the case of Bellary."

PROMINENT PLACE FOR MYSORE IN FUTURE SET-UP

DELHI LEADERS' ASSURANCE---SAYS MPCC PRESIDENT

Mysore, 17

Prime Minister Nehru, Congress President Dhebar and other leaders were of the view that there should be one united Karnataka, said Sri S. Channaiah, President, Mysore Pradesh Congress in a statement here, last night.

It was his feeling he said that the 'Congress leaders at Delhi have come to a definite decision regarding the formation of Karnataka State'.

The Congress leaders at Delhi, Sri Channiah added, had expressed their highest regard for the Maharaja of Mysore. They had assured him, he said, that issues arising in this connection could be settled later by mutual discussion.

In the Statement, Sri Channiah said, "I had talks with many leaders st Delhi and placed before them the various views current in Mysore. All of them were of the view that there should be one Karnataka. I told them that I would persuade and convince my colleagues to arrive at an unanimous decision on this matter and inform them about it.

'Out of regard and love for the people and State of Mysore they have deferred their decision over the matter Even after the Working Committee meeting I met the prominent leaders privately. All of them have expressed an unanimous opinion regarding Karnataka: they have very clearly stated that in the future set up the State of Mysore will occupy a prominent place in India.

'Regarding the recent statement of Chief Minister Mr. K. Hanumanthaiya, I regret to point out that if he had taken a definite stand from the very beginning the present confusion in Mysore would not have arisen.

'They have a good opinion of the people of Mysore State. We, the people of Mysore, need not have any fear. There is no room for fear also. It is not proper if anyone has any suspicion regarding any issue. I humbly request that all suspicion be removed.

'Since the Congress High Command have already arrived at a decision and referred it to a four-man High Power Committee, all of us must support their decision. In the interest of the country, without giving place to misunderstandings, all must be united. Today I have sent a telegram to Congress President Dhebar assuring him that as far as possible all of us will move unitedly. I am confident that the Mysore public will make efforts to remain united."

MYSORE RAJAPRAMUKH AS HEAD OF KARNATAKA

CHIEF MINISTER HANUMANTHIYA'S PLEA

Bangalore, 18

The Chief Minister Sri Hanumanthaiya expressed that His Highness the Rajapramukh should continue to be the head of the proposed Karnataka State, with a different nomenclature.

Speaking on the recommendations of the SRC, the Chief Minister told the Legislative Council yesterday that at the Chief Ministers Conference the recommendation for the abolition of Rajapramukhs was unanimously adopted. Paying a trubute to Mysore Maharaja, Sri Hanumanthaiya pointed out that His Highess was the ideal constitutional monarch. As a person and Rajapramukh he was following the highest code of conduct. If the office of the Rajapramukh was abolished, it would not be due to the shortcomings on the part of the present incumbant, but due to the all-India policy and the decision to establish a Socialistic Pattern of Society.

Expressing the desire of the Government and the people of Mysore to have His Highhess as the Head of the proposed new State, Sri Hanumanthaiya said that "if at the appropriate time, the Government of Mysore were to make a request to continue him in the new office, tha Government of India will be too glad to comply with our request." But the position was, he observed, that His Highness' must be pleased to accept the new office.' Speaking for the people of the State, he said 'so far as the people of Mysore are concerned, they will be very happy and thank His Highness if he continues to be the Head of the new State.'

MYSORE'S DISTINCT ENTITY

MINISTER AGR.'S PLEA IN STATE LEGISLATURE

Bangalore 18

Education Minister Sri A. G. Ramachandra Rao made a fervant appeal to the State Legislature yesterday to seriously think in terms of creating two separate States, with Mysore as a distinct entity and Karnataka in the north.

Sri Ramachandra Rao said that the clamour for United Karnataka had no other logic except linguistic fanaticism, which served a political purpose until the country attained freedom. In the present context of States reorganisatton for administrative purpose, linguism had definitely no place.

Presenting the case for two Karnatakas, the Minister claimed that the formation of two States would offer the best solution for all the administrative and cultural difficulties that unification would otherwise present. He maintained that the State Reorganisation Commission bestowed little attention to the size of the States and re-drawn 'a much worse' map than what it was now. On that score alone, their recommendations ought to be rejected, he said.

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMENDED

Bangalore 19

'Charity is among the greatest human virtues because it is an atribute of devinity itself,' observed His Highness the Rajapramukh opening the annual Fete in aid of the Archbishop's Charities Fund, here yesterday.

Commending the outsanding social service and charitable disposition of the Catholic Church and Community in India, His Highness said "that every faith in the world has assigned a place of prominence to charity. In its widest meaning charity is only another name for that universal love which is the true cement of mankind. Charity is also the logical corollary of ahimsa, following up the avoidance of injury by the performance of positive good deeds.

In our country, he said, Charity had always been honoured as a type of moral excellence and its exercise regarded as a social and religious duty.

'The Catholic Church, in the country as elsewhere in the world, has a long and distinguised history in performance of good works and the dispensing of charitable aid. I commend the liberality and devotion of all those who have placed their time, their art and their resources at the disposal of this generous enterprise,' Maharaja added.

HYDERABAD C.M. DEPRECATES TWO KARNATAKAS

DON'T AGITATE FOR BELLARY, HE SAYS

Mysore, 19

The Hyderabad Chief Minister Mr. B. Ramakrishna Rao stated here today that the people of Mysore should not be so much agitated and fight for the retention of Bellary.

The Chief Minister who arrived here this morning on his way to Sringeri told Samachar that it was not wise for the Mysore people to fight for such a small territory like Bellary. If the people persisted in their agitation, he warned that the Andhra people might launch on agitation for Kolar as majority there were Telugu speaking people.

About Thungabhadra Project, the Chief Minister stated that although 6 lakhs of acres would be irrigated in Karnataka and only one-third of this in Andhra, there would be no difficulty if the head works were to remain in Andhra as recommended by SRC since the entire project was being administered by an independent Central Board.

Mr. Ramakrishna Rao deprecated move for two Karnatakas and said that once the States were to be formed on principle of linguism, it was better to follow the same principle everywhere. "If you agitate for two Karnatakas, then why should we not have two Andhras, two Keralas, likewise," he asked.

The Chief Minister categorically stated that if Hyderabad was not made capital he would not accept Vishalandhra. He also favoured Bangalore to be the capital of Karnataka.

Referring to the abolition of Rajapramukhs, he said that it was an all-India question and when once it was settled, no exception could be given either to Hyderabad Nizam or Mysore Maharaja.

BLACK FLAG DEMONSTRATION

NEWSPAPERS BURNT : STONES PELTED

PROTEST AGAINST UNITED KARNATAKA

Mysore, 21

Over 200 demonstrators waving black flags and shouting anti-Karnataka slogans 'invaded' last evening a public meeting organised by pro-Karnataka group in the Townhall premises.

'Mysore for Mysoreans' campaigners literally pushed down from the dias the speakers of the pro-Karnataka group, cut down the wires of the loud-speakers and made it impossible for the meeting to continue. They shouted slogans like "Down with Nehru", "Down with Hanumanthaiya", "down with Channiah'" and "down with Karnataka".

The meeting of the pro-Karnataka group arranged by the Action Committee was to have endorsed the recommendations regarding the formation of Karnataka but changing the name of new State to 'Vishala Mysore'. They also wanted the retention of the powers and the privileges of the Mysore Rajapramukh. This group included Messrs. Ramaswamy, Nandibasappa, Chowdiah and B. G. Das.

After the confusion had continued for some time, the police intervened to restore order. The police struggled with the demonstrators for over 90 minutes but to no avail.

Mr. S. C. Mallappa, D. S. P. went up to the dias and repeatedly appealed for restoration of calm and order. Even he asked " In the name of Gandhiji, I appeal to you as my brothers, be patient and calm, give a chance to the otherside too to speak ".

The D. S. P.'s advice had no effect. On the other hand, the demonstrators got more and more vociferous and even began burning some of the State and City newspapers which they alleged supported Karnataka and belittled their own efforts for the restoration of Mysore.

It was only at 8-15 p. m. when the D. S. P. was able to persuade Mr. Ramaswamy, President of the Pro-Karnataka meeting to cancel it that the demonstrators dispersed. Mr. Ramaswamy was actually escorted by the police and sent to his home in the D. S. P.'s car.

Later the demonstrators formed into a procession swelled by the public and went round Sayajirao road, Santhepet, 100-ft. road terminating in Old Agrahar. On the way, they were alleged to have resorted to stone throwing before some local Newspapers' offices and even burnt sign-boards and newspapers.

Mysore MLAs Protest

Bangalore, 21

35 M.L.A.s including Messrs A. G. Ramachandra Rao and Kadidal Manjappa, Ministers have sent a protest telegram to Congress President Dhebar, Prime Minister Nehru, Home Minister Pant and Education Minister Maulana Azad seeking permission to vote on the SRC recommendations currently under discussion in the State Legislature.

The Congress President Dhebar communicating the decision of the High Command on the formation of Karnataka had conveyed the advice that it would not be proper for any Congress member in the Legislature to vote against the formation of Karnataka, in the light of the High Command's decision.

The M. P. C. C. Executive Committee, which met yesterday also discussed the issue and adjourned to November 27 without coming to any decision.

CITY FATHERS DISCUSS SRC REPORT UNDER POLICE PROTECTION

Mysore, 22

Under strong police guard, the City Municipal Council discussed today in-conclusively the recommendations of the States Reorganisation Report on the future of Mysore.

The special meeting which was held this morning was heavily guarded by the police and admission was severely restricted.

Mr. K. Puttaswamy, President at the outset appealed to the members to consider the SRC recommendations with calm since there was already excited atmosphere in the country. Their discussion should not add further oil to the troubled situation.

Initiating the debate, Mr. Mir Noor Hussain stated that the future of Mysore City depended on the future of the State. The SRC recommendation that all Kannada speaking areas should be grouped together was not new and the people of Mysore were desiring for Karnataka since twenty years.

Although he would welcome the SRC recommendations, still there were certain omissions and lapses. He cirticised the transference of Bellary to Andhra.

Mr. Noor said he had every respect and interest in the integrity of Mysore, still in the larger interest of the country as a whole, there should be one united Karnataka. But at the same time he wanted that prominence given to this historical city of Mysore should continue. He suggested that a committee of the Council should be constituted to go into the matter and urge on that it was wrong to oppose the formation of one United Karnataka as it would enrich Mysore. When the country was being reorganised without any bloodshed, it was not right that the people of Mysore should be violent and excited.

Mr. Dodda Thammiah strongly opposed the merger of Mysore with Karnataka and said that the highly progressive State of Mysore would suffer if she joined Karnataka. The SRC recommendations was against the wishes of the people of Mysore. He also criticised the Congress High Command's directive to Mysore Legislature denying the freedom to vote.

Mr.Srikanta Sharma welcomed the formation of Karnataka with certain boundary alterations. When all parties in the country had accepted the formation of States on linguistic basis, it was inevitable and necessary that Karnataka State to be formed. He also welcomed the abolition of Rajapramukhs' posts.

Messrs. B. G. Das, C. N. Narayana Rao, Mahadevaswamy, and M. K. Lingiah while welcoming the formation of Karnataka State with Mysore wanted that the status and privileges of the Mysore Raja-

CITY FATHERS DISCUSS SRC REPORT UNDER POLICE PROTECTION

Mysore, 22

Under strong police guard, the City Municipal Council discussed today in-conclusively the recommendations of the States Reorganisation Report on the future of Mysore.

The special meeting which was held this morning was heavily guarded by the police and admission was severely restricted.

Mr. K. Puttaswamy, President at the outset appealed to the members to consider the SRC recommendations with calm since there was already excited atmosphere in the country. Their discussion should not add further oil to the troubled situation.

Initiating the debate, Mr. Mir Noor Hussain stated that the future of Mysore City depended on the future of the State. The SRC recommendation that all Kannada speaking areas should be grouped together was not new and the people of Mysore were desiring for Karnataka since twenty years.

Although he would welcome the SRC recommendations, still there were certain omissions and lapses. He cirticised the transference of Bellary to Andhra.

Mr. Noor said he had every respect and interest in the integrity of Mysore, still in the larger interest of the country as a whole, there should be one united Karnataka. But at the same time he wanted that prominence given to this historical city of Mysore should continue. He suggested that a committee of the Council should be constituted to go into the matter and urge on the State and Central Governments for upholding the prominence of Mysore City.

Mr. M. N. Thimmiah stated that it was wrong to oppose the formation of one United Karnataka as it would enrich Mysore. When the country was being reorganised without any bloodshed, it was not right that the people of Mysore should be violent and excited.

Mr. Dodda Thammiah strongly opposed the merger of Mysore with Karnataka and said that the highly progressive State of Mysore would suffer if she joined Karnataka. The SRC recommendations was against the wishes of the people of Mysore. He also criticised the Congress High Command's directive to Mysore Legislature denying the freedom to vote.

Mr.Srikanta Sharma welcomed the formation of Karnataka with certain boundary alterations. When all parties in the country had accepted the formation of States on linguistic basis, it was inevitable and necessary that Karnataka State to be formed. He also welcomed the abolition of Rajapramukhs' posts.

Messrs. B. G. Das, C. N. Narayana Rao, Mahadevaswamy, and M. K. Lingiah while welcoming the formation of Karnataka State with Mysore wanted that the status and privileges of the Mysore Rajapramukh should be maintained at any cost.

Mr. Chowdiah wanted Karnataka State to be formed without detrimental to prominence of Mysore and it should be 'Vishala Mysore'. Whether Karnataka or Vishala Mysore was formed or not, he was particular that Mysore Maharaja should remain as he was.

Mr. Muddiah opposing the formation of Karnataka stated that the Government should not go against the wishes of the people. By forming linguistic States casteism would increase and that would spell danger to the country.

Discussion had not concluded when the Council adjourned.

SOCIAL TRAINING FOR MEDICAL STUDENTS

The conference on under-graduate Medical Education which concluded its session at New Delhi among other things has felt that the written examination for students of medicine should be reduced to the minimum and they should be replaced by practival and oral tests.

It has also recommended that the rural and urban health centres should be associated with the training of students with a view to developing in them a social outlook and acquaintance with the community health centres. This would also prepare the young doctors to work efficiently in rural areas, it has been felt.

The Conference has also suggested the reorganisation of the existing curriculum giving scope for more practical demonstrations, lectures, seminars and field work. The need for co-ordination between the department of preventive medicine and other departments of medical colleges has also been stressed.

NEED FOR LOVE AND CHARITY
RAJAPRAMUKH'S PLEA AT ST. PHILOMENA COLLEGE

Mysore, 28

Presiding over the Guardians' Day of the St. Philomena's College here yesterday, His Highness the Rajapramukh complimented the college authorities for providing the students with practical opportunities for training in service, as social service, he said, had a special significance and importance in democracy

His Highness stated that he was glad that the college had marched a long way since its inception. The college founded by the Catholic Mission, had always open to all creeds and castes, and the wisdom of this policy, apart from the sound moral principle underlying it, was reflected in the increasing number of students (from 358 to 950). The results of examination had also been such as to justify the growing popularity of the college. No greater testimony than these facts was necessary to accentuate the valuable academic work being done here by both the students and the staff.

The Rajapramukh stressing importance doctrine of love or charity stated that "if the world is passing through a moral crisis today, it is largely the result of an absence of balance between moral and intellectual development in man". The solution, he said, lay in the evolution of the integrated human being. He was happy to find that in this college priority had been given to moral values and it was a guarantee that those who passed through this college into the world be not merely scholars and scientists but men as well. For he said men who had cultivated wisdom and compassion would do a great deal of good to the world and to humanity.

Finally, the Rajapramukh appealed to the public to remember that many of their children were educated here year after year and it would be but right that they should take a lively and practical interest in its welfare.

Earlier, His Excellency the Bishop of Mysore welcomed the Rajapramukh. After orchestra, the Principal Rev. Fr. Audieu presented a report which detailed the many sided activities of the college.

The Principal stated that apart from the increase in number of admissions and distinction in examinations, they had started a Social Service Samaja and also a diploma course in social service. He also appealed to the Central and State governments to treat the affiliated colleges on a par with the other constituent colleges especially in the distribution of funds for the enhancement of salaries to the teaching staff and other requirements.

C. R. Favours Southern State

Sri C. Rajagopalachari, depricating the disputes over boundaries and divisions of the States, has suggested the formation of a large Southern State.

Sri Rajaji who was on a short visit to Delhi to address the Convocation of the Delhi University stated that "if it is impossible to put the States reorganisation schemes in cold storage for the next 15 years, the only alternative is for the Centre to govern India as a unitary State and deal with district officers and district boards directly, with regional commissioners' supervision."

It would be utterly wrong to fitter away national energy in disputes over boundaries and divisions conceived in the drawing room and not on the background of conditions that had resulted historically, he said.

Speaking about the formation of Southern State, Rajaji said "apart from my general conviction, I feel that a large Southern State is absolutely essential for preserving the political significance of that part of the country. To cut up the South into Tamil, Malayalam and other small States will result only in complete insignificance of everybody and in the next result, India as a whole will be poorer".

"Travancore-Cochin, Malabar and Madras should make a beginning in consolidating the Southern States to recognisible size and strength. It would be open to Andhra and Karnataka to think it over later. One fault should not necessarily lead to a series of consistent errors. The proper thing to do when an error is committed is to cry halt" he said.

The Mysore Pradesh Congress Committee, at its secret special session held here yesterday adopted a resolution welcoming the formation of a United Karnataka State with certain additions.

Mr. S. Chenniah, President presided.

The Chief Minister Mr. Hanumanthaiya, it is reported to have stated that he had sought clarification on the Significance of the words "Kannada-speaking areas in Mysore" mentioned in the resolution of the High Command and the Prime Minister had informed him that the wording of the resolution had not been happy and the High Power Committee meant the entire State of Mysore and the Kolar would continue to remain in the proposed new State."

Members who supported the resolution stated that the formation of United Karnataks State would benefit all sections of people. In the larger interest of the country and the Congress organisation, it would be wise and logical to accept the decision of the High Command.

The Chair ruled out two points of order raised by Mr. M. V. Veekatappa and Mr. T. N. Mudlagiri Gowda that if the view was to accept the directive of the Congress High Command, there was no need to call for the session of the M. P. C. C.

Fertility of Indian Women

An average Indian woman gives birth to between 6 and 7 children during her reproductive period.

A countrywide sample census of births and deaths shows for mothers of completed fertility, the child-loss varies from about 20 per cent to about 33 per cent. In other words, about one-fifth to one-third of the children born predecease their mothers.

The pattren of fertility of women in India is a distinctive one. In the first place, India has the highest age specific fertility (births per 1,000 females in same age-group) for 'all ages' as well as individual age-groups when compared with the U. S. and other countries.

The proportion of deaths at younger ages in India is very high About 50 per cent of the deaths occur among children under 10 years as aginst only 9.7 per cent in U. S. and 5.3 per cent in England.

The mortality rates for females in the reproductive ages (15-44) are generally higher than those for males in almost all the States of India.

Closer Indo-Soviet Amity

Thirty lakhs people of Calcutta who were disappointed on Tuesday in not having a 'darshan' of the Soviet leaders owing to the traffic breakdown, heard yesterday Soviet Communist Party Chief Krushchev and Prime Minister Nehru stressing the need for closer Indo-Soviet co-operation in the cause of peace and human welfare.

Mr. Khrushchev speaking at a civic reception declared "Our friendship will enrich the peoples of India and the Soviet Union materially and spiritually."

He repeated the Soviet Union's offer to help India in every way to develop a powerful industry. Referring to Portuguese hold on Goa, he said "there are some countries yet which, like insects, stick to the human body and suck its blood" and he waa convinced that Goa would be liberated from foreign domination soon.

The outspoken Soviet leader said that unfortunately the friendship between the peoples of India and the Soviet Union was "not to the liking" of some countries, which would not mind breaking this friendship. "We realise that certain circles of certain States are making such efforts. They are afraid of this friendship because it promotes the consolidation of peace in the whole world,"he added

Prime Minister Nehru stated that the great welcome that the Soviet leaders had in India "has alarmed some of our friends in other countries who cannot help thinking in terms of rival camps and military alliances." He assured those countries that "we do not propose to join any camp or alliance" and added that the friendship and co-operation between the Soviet Union and India was not aimed against any nation or people. "We hope that the area of friendship and co-operation will be enlarged till it ultimately embraces the whole world."

NEW KARNATAKA STATE

C. M.'S CLARIFICATION IN ASSEMBLY

Bangalore, 1

Chief Minister Mr. Hanumanthaiya moved an amendment to the motion on the report of the States Reorganisation Commission, in the Legislative Assembly yesterday, which stated :

The new State should comprise the following areas : the present State of Mysore not excluding any part of the Bellary district; the districts of of Bijapur, Dharwar, North Canara and Belgaum except Chandgad taluk in Bombay State; the districts of Raichur, Gulburga and the contiguous four taluks of Bidar district in Hyderabad; South Canara district except the portion of Kasargod taluk lying to the south of Chandragiri river and Kollegal taluk of Combatore district in Madras State; Coorg State and such other contiguous areas in which the people have expressed their desire to join the new State.

This Assembly is further of opinion that in order to preserve its composite character, the new State should continue to be called "Mysore State."

Speaking on the occasion, the Chief Minister stated that he had deliberately omitted the use of the word Karnataka. In order to maintain the composite character of Mysore, he had suggested that the new State should be called "Mysore State". Mysore did not severally belong to Kannadigas, Tamils, Telugus and urdu speaking people of Mysore. It belonged to all. A composite State like Mysore would also answer to the needs of the linguistic minorities.

He further stated that he had the authority to state that the decision of the High Command" is that the new State of Karnataka should consist of the present State of Mysore and all Kannada-speaking areas of Bombay, Hyderabad, Madras and Coorg." Therefore all doubts had now been cleared. So he appealed to the members to accept the amendment unanimously.

Everyman A King

Prime Minister Nehru envisaged a time when people's splendour would come to full fruition and every man in India would be a 'little king' in his own right.

Addressing a Sikh 'diwan' at New Delhi on the occasion of the birth day of Guru Nanak, Mr.Nehru said "What kind of glory do we aspire for? There was in the old days the royal splendour and glory of kings. But in modern times this splendour and glory lies in the upliftment of the common people from the morass of fear and suffering. We do not want any more the glory of kings. We want a day to come to India when every man become a little king in his own right. Freedom will have meaning only when comfort, work, glory and freedom itself are shared equally by all people."

He added "We do not want that in our country one individual should sit on a high tower and the vast multitudes of people should remain on the ground below. But we must remember that upliftment of people requires hard, consistent effort in a co-operative way, and it cannot be achieved by magic."

Howlers By Graduates

"Lok Sabha is one of the important political parties in India"; "Single member constituency means a political organisation where there will be only one house in the legislature", were some of the answers given by graduates appearing before the Andhra Public Service Commission for posts of lectures.

Here are some more howlers:

Cold war means rebuking each other--by a History graduate.

Ceylon is a dependency of Great Britain and has to secure the approval of British Government in all matters--By a History Honours Graduate.

Family Planning is a superstructure on the Five-Year Plan--By Economics Graduate.

Endemic is one being caught by another--English Honours Graduate.

PEPSU--a kind of medicine used for cough (confusing with peps)—S.S.L.C. applicant.

Quorum--another name for Babur,--the sacred book of Muslims--a medicine for tuberculosis invented by Madame Curie.

Pseudonym--a metal used in atom bombs--unnatural connections.

Munroe Doctrine: a native medicine.

Asoka: a Moghul ruler.

Dollar area: a place which has no rain in any season by any monsoon.

Formosa is in Europe. Andhra is a residuary State. War is going on between China and Russia. Repatriation means taking care of neutrals and preserving neutrality. Gibraltar is in Africa and belongs to France.

The Public Service Commission's Report says that many candidates had no idea of geographical or industrial or economic importance of their own localities or districts. Very few of the graduates, the Commission has reported were able to speak correct and idiomatic English. An English honours graduate said "he is readily movable in society" (meaning sociable).

Many of the econmic students were not aware of the Five-Year Plan. One economic student had not heard of Carl Marx.

Biology students were ignorant of Pastuer and the meaning of rabies.

A physics honours student stated that a micrometer 'is a millionth of a meter and that inertia of a body is its inability to work.

Murder Of Indian Student

A 32-year-old London warehouse-man Ross, was accused in a London court of clubbing to death an Indian student on Nov. 5 with a lump of iron and hiding the body in the divan of a London flat.

Dutta, an electrical engineer, was then in London on his way back to Shillong after a year's study in Canada.

Ross, according to the statement read out in the court, said he met Dutta in Piccadilly Circus on Nov. 4 and next day took him to Ross's London flat. They argued about India. Ross abused Dutta in Hindustani for something the Indian had said and Dutta was knocked unconscious in the fight which followed.

" I laid him on the bed and then he appeared to be coming round. I went to the attic to find something to hit him with. I just lost my head and took from the attic a lump of iron bracket. I went back into the room and saw him getting up from the bed and making for me. I hit the man on the head with it. He crumpled up so I pushed him on the bed and smaked him again with it. CHANGE YOUR MENTALITY

UNION MINISTER'S APPEAL TO SAVARNA HINDUS

Mysore, 3

The Union Communication Minister Mr. Jagjivan Ram appealed to the Savarna Hindus to change their outlook towards their Harijan brothern and remove the blackspot of untouchability in the country.

He was addressing a Harijan meeting here last evening at the Ashokapura.

The Union Minister stated that however much the Government might bring in acts and measures to solve this untouchability problem, still it was not successful because there was still that idea of low and high in our country. Unless there was social revolution, this could not be removed.

Here he made reference to satyagraha now going on before Visveswara temple in Benares to bar the entry of Harijans and said that it was unfortunate that Hindus had induced even women to offer satyagraha. So if that was the case, how could untouchability could be solved, he asked. He said that be advised his Harijan friends at Banares not to force their entry into temple when women were offering satyagraha.

Mr. Jagjivan Ram warned Harijans ever to be vigilent on the recruitment to the lower cadres of Government and immediately bring to the notice of the concerned any irregularities so that the officers " will not have the courage to misbehave." He accused a certain section of Hindus as being prejudicial to the interests of Harijans and declared " how else can you explain the pleadings of a Government officer that he cannot find suitable Harijan candidates even to fill the fourth class vacancies. A public officer who pleads this excuse should be publically linched."

The Minister advised the Harijans not to depend entirely on Government and asked them to raise subscriptions among themselves especially for the education of their children.

Earlier, Messrs. K. Siddiah, G. S. Ramakrishniah and N. Rachiah, Harijan leaders represented to the Minister about the various difficulties of Harijans especially in getting employment and urged on the Central Government to provide more facilities like lands and grants.

M. P. C. C. President Mr. S. Chenniah who presided appealed to the Union Minister to help the people of Mysore who were now facing a number of difficulties in the formation of Karnataka. He also requested Mr. Jagjivan Ram to see that the position of Mysore Maharaja was safeguarded.

MASS RESISTANCE CAMPAIGN IN GOA

The resistance movement inside Goa would take the form of mass demonstrations and no tax campaign, stated Sri V. N. Lawande, President of the Azad Gomantak Dal. It is stated that 400 active underground workers and 3000 others owe allegiance to this organisation inside Goa.

" The Goan underground movement will be keyed up soon to a pitch, which will make it impossible for Portuguese to continue their hold on Goa." he said

Though the Goan movement outwardly appear to have slowed down since Agust 15, it is stated that the resistance of the people in Goa was on increase. The Portuguese Government was now confronted with a mounting wave of non-cooperation from the localpeople in all fields leading to a fresh wave of depression and indiscriminate arrests even in remote villages.

As a result of increased resistance offered by the Goan people, the Portuguese authorities proposed to augment the strength of white troops in Goa from 10,000, to 14,000.

ARAB GOLD SMUGGLERS

CAUGHT IN BANGALORE

Bangalore, 8

Two Saudi Arabs and a Pakistani, from among the entourage of the King were caught here on Tuesday evening, while transacting in contraband gold on a big scale.

Diplomatic immunity, coupled with courtesies due to visiting dignitaries prevented any more action than the seizure of 510 tolas of gold and cash to the value of Rs. 40,000 found in the possession of the persons abusing India's hospitality.

The seizure of the contraband gold was effected by Central Intelligence officials, who have been on the track of the smugglers right from Delhi.

It was disclosed that the smuggling gang were near-desperadoes, armed with daggers and revolvers.

In Delhi at Connaught Circle where they first came out in view with their nefarious activity, it is stated, managed to extract the full value in money, at the point of a pistol, from a wary bullion dealer who wanted to call in the police.

On Tuesday night, here at Chickpet, the Intelligence officials had to press into service a platoon of armed police to surround a jeweller's shop where the transaction was going on, before the gold smugglers could be caught safely.

The strangely-dressed Arabs in tunics and head-cover went from shop to shop in Commercial street, trying to locate the highest bidder but the offer would not rise beyond the level of Rs.60 per tola.

The Arabs, whose names are given as Ahmed and Abdulla, led by the Pakistani, Yusuf as interpreter, proceeded to Chickpet in search of a better deal. There it was that they came across the jeweller's firm which came up to their expectations of Rs. 90 a tola. Ingots of gold passed hands and Rs.4,000 was parted with. While the next deal for a bigger amount Rs.5,000 was in progress, the anthorities stepped in and nipped the transaction.

NEHRU WARNS PEOPLE

Prime Minister Nehru told a meeting of Congress workers at Hyderabad that neither the Congress High Command nor the Government would be "cowed down" by the threats of fasts or agitation in regard to the issue of reorganisation of States.

Deprecating the grabbing tendency on the part of the States and persons, the Prime Minister said that the reorganisation should be brought about in the atmosphere of goodwill and tolerance.

He is understood to have made clear that the Congress High Command was not inclined to foist decisions on unwilling people. They wanted the people to arrive at mutual understanding to solve their problems in a healthy atmosphere.

He advised the Congress workers to view the question of States reorganisation not merely from the point of languages, but also bear in mind the overall picture of India. The reorganisation of States was a matter of administrative convenience and should not be made the criterion for dividing the people.

SOVIET LEADERS VISIT TO KASHMIR

PAKISTAN'S PROTEST

Soviet Communist Party Secretary Khrushchev disclosed in a public meeting at Srinagar on Saturday, that the Pakistan Government had protested to the Soviet Ambassador in Pakistan against the visit of Mr.Bulganin and himself to Kashmir and also their proposed visit to Afghanistan and said "No one is going to tell us where and what for we will go and what kind of friends we will choose."

Mr. Kurushchev said that Kashmir was a part of India and the people of Kashmir had themselves decided to become part of India. He said 'the question about Kashmir as one of the States of the Republic of India has been decided by the people of Kashmir and this is a matter for the people themselves,' He added that 'facts show that the population of Kashmir do not wish that Kashmir should become a toy in the hands of imperialist forces.'

He said the so called Kashmir question had not appeared among the people. It was to the advantage of certain States to sow hatred and division between the people of countries which were throwing off their shoulders the dependence on colonial oppressors.

Mr. Krushchev said monopolists pursued their own goal in trying to sow division among the people. The partition of India itself was 'the result of divide and rule policy of the imperialists.'

The Soviet Union, he added, was convinced regardless of the manner in which Pakistan was created when India became independent, these States should co-exist and develop and it was not necessary now to make any changes in the borders of these States as some countries wanted to do.

The Soviet leader also criticised the creation of military blocs and the Bagdad Pact and said "it will burst like a soap bubble and only unpleasant recollections will remain".

Like the total eclipse, an annular eclipse, of the sun can be seen only along a narrow track on the earth over which the shadow of the moon travels.

ALL-INDIA EXAMINATION ON LINES OF CAMB. CERTIFICATE

—Panikkar's Suggestion

Mr K. M Panikkar has advocated the organisation of an all-India Examination on the lines of the Cambridge Higher Certificate or the London Matriculation Examination, for enforcing a uniform and higher standard of test all over India.

Delivering the Foundation Day address of the Central Institute of Education at Delhi, Mr. Panikkar said that there could be no denying the fact that today in secondary education there was no such thing as an all-India standard. It was obvious that with the regionalisation of education, the standards themselves had fallen varying to a great extent with the state of development of the languages themselves.

Declaring that the fall in standards was also due to their failure to recognise the essential values of examination, Mr. Panikkar said "it is not fashionable today to emphasise the necessity of strict and effective written examination, but I am old fashioned enough to think, that far from being a necessary evil, examinations properly conducted are desirable and necessary for a good educational system."

" The noticeable fall ", Mr. Panikkar stated, " in our educational standards which every one deplores, is in a great measure due to the desire to make examinations more easy in order to facilitate a large percentage of passes. It may perhaps be too late to raise standards of our regional examinations but the suggestion which I have put forward of an All-India Higher Certificate Examination may enable us to retrieve some of the lost ground."

"Nehru, The Good Fairy"

"Nehru is the good fairy" writes Alan Taylor in the "Daily Herald", London.

Mr. Tayler adds" I am beginning to think that the United Nations may come to something after all. If so, it will not be thanks to the so-called great powers who have done their best to wreck.

"Look, what happened last week when 16 States were up for admission. There was the Formosa veto and general despair. Delegates went round with gloomy faces, saying 'This is the end of the United Nations'.

"They were saved by a good fairy and this fairy as usual was Pandit Nehru.

"Mr. Krishna Menon, India's delegate rang up Nehru. Nehru in turn rang up Molotov and in 24 hours the Russians had changed their minds.

"It is entirely Pandit Nehru's doing that the United Nations works at all. Nehru alone has the vision of a great statesman. His diplomacy stopped the war in Korea. It stopped the war in Indo-China".

READERS' VIEWS:

POLICE ACTION CONDEMNED

Sir,--I wish to bring to the notice of the Government and the Public about the callous attitude of the Police against the peaceful demonstrators near the Townhall premises on the evening of Dec 22.

There is no constitutional ban on peaceful demonstrations and shouting of slogans. But still on the day when the City Municipal Council accorded a civic reception to MPCC President Mr. Channiah, some persons for mere shouting anti-Karnataka slogans were mercilessly pushed, dragged and insulted by the City Police. In democracy the people have got every right to voice their feelings by peaceful demonstrations. In spite of the old regime being removed there still appears to be 'Police Raj'. The police in 'People Raj' are there to protect and not to insult or abuse people.

CONTACT BETWEEN TEACHER AND STUDENT

Dr. S. Radhakrishnan, Vice-President of India had attributed the present indiscipline and unrest among students to lack of personal between the teacher and the taught.

The Vice President stated that the problems arising out of the great need for expansion of education were centered round the need to extend facilities of education without impairing standards. Unless admissions were restricted and had adequate staff, they would not succeed in developing the intellect of the young mind. If they wished to do that, it was necessary to apply attention to every people individually, he said.

Peace In The World

PRIME MINISTER NEHRU'S PLEA

Prime Minister Nehru addressing a mammoth meeting at Trivandurm yesterday strongly criticised both the Western Powers for their war-like preparations and the Eastern block for their war-like slogans in defence of peace.

He said that militant words would only set the sparks of another war that people so much dreaded and military blocks were not friendly alliances but primarily meant against certain other nations. He declared that for maintenance of peace in the world there was an urgent need to strengthen the forces devoutly pledged to peace.

The Prime Minister also condemned the activities of the Indian Communists and the Praja-Socialists for their impractical approach to the problems facing the ·country. While the former, he said, were living in the past and drew inspiration from what was happening 5,000 miles away, the latter was an organisation indulging in destructive criticism without understanding the present-day trends in the country.

He said that India was going through a revolutionary movement to bring about economic and social changes in all aspects of life. The entire nation, he said, was on the march to put an end to all inequalities in the living standards of the people.

P. S. P. THESIS

The All-India conference of Praja-Socialist Party meeting at Gaya today has declared in a policy statement that "there can be no real political democracy without economic freedom as its foundation". It wants that the Constitution to be revised with a view to making it a fit instrument of full political and social democracy. For this purpose civil liberties should be made more absolute.

It suggests that Economic Councils should be substituted for Second Chambers of the legislatures with such powers in the sphere of finance, economy, labour and social insurance as are granted to the Second Chambers under the Constitution.

Before the actual typing begins, a linguist writes out the text in the language desired. He then substitutes for the characters with diagonals, circles and squares indicating punctuation. Inserting the proper type font in the machine, the operator strikes the keys according to the numbers into which the text has been translated.

SOCIAL WORK FOR WORLD'S UNITY AND HARMONY

MYSORE RAJAPRAMUKH'S PLEA AT SOCIAL WORK CONFERENCE

Bangalore, 28

Inaugurating the Eighth Annual Session of the Indian Conference of Social Work, here yesterday, the Rajapramukh of Mysore stated that there was urgent necessity for social work on a nation-wide scale for eradicating mass illiteracy, poverty and ill-health among the citizens.

His Highness pointed out that they might vary in form or extent from place to place and time to time, ignorance, poverty and disease recongised no frontiers nor distinctions of political ideology. Social work, therefore had this tremendous advantage over political and economic effort, in that there was identity of purpose and no rivalry as between party and party or nation and nation.

Science and technology had bound the world together into a single physical entity. It was for social work to lead the way in making that world united and harmonious, he said.

The object of social welfare programme, the Rajapramukh said, was to help the individual to help himself and not to supplant his effort or make him idle and helpless. He also emphasised the importance of co-operation between officials and non-officials and said there should not be any official propriety or private dignity in the field of social service.

Finally, the Rajapramukh said that "not only ability and enthusiasm but also character and devotion are necessary in social work, and it should not be turned into a trade or a mere pastime."

More than 600 social workers attended this five-day conference.

Mr. T. Siddalingiah, former Mysore Minister welcomed the delegates.

Mrs. Hansa Mehta, Vice-Chancellor of the Baroda University in her presidential address, expressed the hope that if people were determined to build the future social order on the fundamental principles of justice and equality of opportunity, "our progress, though slow, will be sure."

She said ignorance was the root cause of much human misery, squalor and disease, and social education was necessary to remove these evils. She, therefore welcomed the inclusion of training of social education organisers for rural areas by the Planning Commission as part of the Community Project Schemes.

Mandya Conference Constitutional

Mysore, 29

In connection with the Conference to be held at Mandya on Jan 1 to protest against the merger of Mysore in the proposed Karnataka, Mr. A. Ramanna in a statement states that it was indeed a surprise that MPCC had issued a directive to Congressmen prohibiting them from attending the conference.

The proposed conference, he says "is within the frame work of law and discipline as such there is no reason whatsoever for any Congressmen to abstain from attending."

Mr. Ramanna further states that the cry to keep Mysore State separately was not a new one and it was being supported from ever so many years. Even the MPCC President Mr. Channaiah had supported this move. "Because of Mr. Channiah's persuation some of the legislatures signed the no-confidence motion against Mr. Hanumanthaiya thinking that he is genuine in expressing that he is opposed to one Karnataka. Having taken this signed document he had been to Delhi and later issued a statement duping one and all. And now he threatens us in the sacred name of discipline. If Mr. Channaiah had taken a definite stand from the beginning regarding this controversy, I am sure this situation would not have definitely arisen. When this is the position Mr. Channaiah alone is mainly responsible for this. As such he must be first expelled from the Congress Organisation, before thinking to take any disciplinary action against others", he adds.

If Government granted three and a half per cent interest for the gold, private owners might be encouraged to hand over the gold.

BETTER PAY FOR TEACHERS

The panel on education of the Planning Commission, which concluded its two-day session at Delhi had opined that the present scales of primary school teachers should be revised so as to attract the proper teaching talent.

In regard to the field of university and higher technological education, the panel was of the view that proper students should be selected and increased staff should be employed to deal with the large number of students in the 800 affiliated colleges in India today.

Regarding unemployment, the panel pointed out that at present there were two million people who could be categorised as educated unemployed-- 5.5 lakhs up to Matriculation standard and 14.5 lakhs educated up to University standard.

Development Of Ayurveda

APPEAL TO UNION GOVERNMENT

Presiding over the forty-first session of the All-India Ayurveda Conference at Kurnool today Dr. Y. Parthanarayana Pandit appealed to the Union Government to give up the step-motherly treatment given to the Ayurveda.

Mr. Pandit regretted that in the First Five-Year Plan, although Rs.47.37 crores were provided for public health, only a sum of Rs. 33 lakhs were allotted for development of Ayurveda. The very ancient system of indigenous medicine was being completely neglected and no place was given in any of the Government's medical scheme. He pointed out that unless the Central Government changed their policy of appointing and taking the advice of foreign and Indian allopathic experts in the matter of expansion of Ayurveda, the indigenous system would completely be wiped out from the country.

In order to develop Ayurveda, Dr Pandit suggested to the Central and State Governments that Ayurveda should be recongised as a science; in all schemes under the development of indigenous medicine in the country, only such doctors in the line should be consulted and appointed as members of the Committees; there should be uniform curricula of studies throughout the country; a separate department for indigenous medicine should be established in all States; health centres on Ayurvedic basis and setting up a separate ministry for Ayurveda at the Centre.

Establishment of smallscale industries and co-operative road transport organsiations were some of the solutions suggested by the Panel.

Emergency Relief Body

The Government of India are considering the qrestion of setting up an Emergency Relief Organisation on a permanent basis which would provide coordination and possess an integrated working plan.

The Central and the State Governments had in the past assumed responsibility for rendering assistance to people affected by floods, famines and epidemics. But the steps taken by them had been on an ad hoc basis and there was no conscious effort in advance of the emergency to provide for the fullest coordination of the activities of those organisations with those of the Government.

Hence the Union Government were at present examining the details of the organisation in consulation with State Governments and other bodies with a view to ensuring fullest scope for the people's participation in the plan.

BOMBAY UNDER DIRECT CONTROL OF THE CENTRE

GOVERNMENT'S INTENTION TO MAKE IT SECOND CAPITAL

The future of Bombay City as "the commercial capital" of India under direct administrative control of the Central Government had been virtually agreed upon between Prime Minister Nehru and Bombay Chief Minister Morarji Desai, it is stated.

If the suggestion is accepted, Bombay would not only be the commercial capital but a 'real second capital of India' with one session of Parliament being held in the City each year.

A number of Ministries in Delhi like the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, the Ministry of Scientific Research and Natural Resources and a part of the Defence Ministry might be transferred to Bombay.

Bombay might as well become the headquarters of tha Navy and the Public Works Ministry and a bulk of the Finance Ministry might also be moved to the City of Bombay.

MERGER OF MYSORE WITH KARNATAKA OPPOSED

MANDYA CONFERENCE DECISION TO LAUNCH PROPAGANDA

Mysore, 2

The anti-Mysore State Merger Conference, meeting at Mandya yesterday, adopted a resolution strongly protesting against the recommendation of the States Reorganisation Commission in regard to merger of Mysore in the Karnataka.

The resolution stated that the recommendations of SRC had caused dissatisfaction among the people of Mysore in that the formation of Karnataka would adversely affect the people of Mysore.

The Conference constituted a 25-man standing committee to take steps for launching State-wide propaganda for enlisting the sympathy and support of the entire population in its struggle to achieve the object.

More than 10,000 persons attended the conference.

Before the commencement of the session, Mr. Veeranna Gowda hoisted the National Flag and the President Mr. Lakkappa was taken in procession.

Mr. K. V. Shankare Gowda, Chairman of the Reception Committee welcomed the delegates.

Mr. Lakkappa, MLA in his presidential address stated that "to say that the majority of people in Mysore favour unification is a total fallacy". The majority are definitely opposed to United Karnataka, he declared.

Strongly criticising the powers for gagging all along the true expression of people's verdict, Mr. Lakkappa challenged the protagonists of United Karnataka to face the electroate on the issue of unification at the forthcoming elections to the District Boards in the State.

The President stated that he and his friends were second to none to bow to the majority decision, which was one of the fundamentals of democracy. but it was the duty of the leaders to give them freedom and scope to voice their opinions till the Parliament of the country took its final decision in the matter. He appealed to the High Command to reconsider their fiat banning Congressmen from participating in the conference.

He declared that the organisers of the conference had no anti-national designs whatever to create unrest and chaos threatening the national unity. He fully believed that the public opinion in Mysore was opposed to merger of Mysore in Karnataka.

The conference also adopted resolutions urging upon the Central Government to continue the institution of Rajapramukh in Mysore and welcomed the merger af Kannada areas like Coorg, Kollegal and others provided the people of those areas were willing to merge with Mysore.

The conference also adopted a resolution moved by Mr. K. R. Kale Gowda of Mysore protesting against the detention of certain persons at the time of presenting civic address to the MPCC President and condemned the alleged police excesses.

Bankmen Strike Illegal & Harmful

NEHRU'S CALL

Prime Minister Nehru stated that the contemplated strike by bank employees was illegal, wrong and harmful and advised them not to participate in it.

Mr. Nehru in a statement said that "The recommendations of Justice Mr. Gajendragadkar were accepted by Government and by Parliament, which were fully impartial and on careful considerations. Quite apart from the fact that Parliament had accepted and passed the Act and strikes over matters which had been adjudicated upon were illegal, this new agitation struck at the very base of the system of adjudication, he said.

"I think this is a serious matter and there can be no industrial peace if all of us do not recognise the value of this approach by adjudication to industrial disputes. At any time this would have been undesirable, at the present movement, when we are on the eve of launching the Second Five Year plan, industrial peace and co-operation in this great effort are peculiarly necessary.

"I have every sympathy for bank employees as for other workers and wish them well, but I think that the contemplated action is wrong and I would strongly advise bank employees not to participate in it." he added.

NEED TO IMPROVE WOMEN'S LOT

Presiding over the 25th annual session of the All India Women's conference at Mangalore, Mrs. Lakshmi Menon, Parliamentary Secretary to the External Affairs Ministry stressed the paramount need for improving the women's lot in the country.

She said "Social backwardness of women has kept them in a state of unawareness and insensitiveness to the vast currents of reform sweeping the country." The efforts to bring awareness among women were still limited. So there was necessity for making them know what their rights or duties were and how best they could contribute their talents for the service of the country.

Referring to the problem of unemployment, Mrs. Menon regretted that even the existing limited opportunities were tending to produce unemployment among educated women. If the insistance on University degrees for employment was abandoned and special skills were given preference, there would be a desirable diversion of youth to other channels of training and this might to some extent help in solving the problem, she said.

RAISING ACADEMIC STANDARDS

MYSORE UNIVERSITY COMMITTEE'S SUGGESTIONS

Mysore, 9

General overcrowding in colleges and the system of education harnessed to the needs of public service at all levels were the main causes for the large number of failures in the University examinations.

This was the opinion of the Committee appointed by the Mysore University Council who were asked to investigate the causes for the large number of failures in the examination.

The Committee were of opinion that unless the present concept of the relations between teaching and examinations and between examinations and employment was revised, it would not be easy to reform the system of examination or to improve the result.

The Report stated that the average failure for the period 1949-53 in Intermediate was 65.8 in Arts and 68.4 in Science. In B.A and B.Sc, the percentage of failure during the same period was 66.4 and 75.3 respectively.

The Committee said that not all the causes for large-scale failures in University examinations were amenable to regulation or control by the University. Overcrowding in colleges in general and in certain courses in particular, with the inevitable loss of quality, was largely due to the public demand for certain kinds of degrees and diplomas as passports to remunerative employment. For 120 years, our system of education had been harnessed to the needs of public service, inclusive of all kinds of posts at lower levels. Examinations which guarded the gates of admission either to higher studies or to employment had been an important element not only in the field of education but also in the whole social and economic system.

Regarding the medium of instruction, the Committee felt that the adoption of Kannada would facilitate teaching, learning and performance in examinations. At the same time, the Committee has suggested that English should be retained as a compulsory subject, but with the content as well as methods of teaching and examination suitably changed to yield better results.

On the system of examinations, the Committee has suggested reduction of questions requiring essay type answers and adoption of a system of objective tests and questions requiring short answers.

Admission of students to different courses of study should be based upon individual fitness and aptitude tests should be applied before selections. Extra-curricular activities should be organised on a rational academic basis and should be kept under the control of the staff.

The Committee also recommended aptitude tests for teachers, with special emphasis on the right kind of personality traits, to see that they were fit for the profession by intellect and by temperament, as teachers were equally responsible for the success or failure of students in the examinations.

Advice To Athletes

Mysore, 9

Mr. Lloyd C. Winter and Mr. George Rider, the American athletic coaches arrived here yesterday on a short sight-seeing visit.

Addressing the local athletes at a meeting organised by the Mysore District Amateur Athletic Association at the Chamarajendra Ursu Boarding School, Mr. Rider stated that there was no short-cut to success in athletics except "work, work and hard work". He felt that unless more men evinced interest in the promotional side of athletics, there would be no scope for bringing out the best from youngmen. He wanted that atleast 8 to 10 Meets in a seson should be held so that athletes might meet opposition often to improve their standards.

Mr Winter speaking stated that Universities should be not only centres of learning but also centres of health. Hard work coupled with ambition and correct poise were the primary requisites for athletes, he said.

Earlier, Mr. D. Ramaiah, President of the Association welcomed the distinguished guests.

SENATE APPROVES VARSITY BUDGET

Mysore, 9

At a meeting of the Senate of the Mysore University held on Saturday, the budget estimates amounting to Rs. 99 lakhs (details already published) for the year 1956-57 were approved.

During the discussion, Mr. N. Srinivasa Murthy stated that the proposed Music College to be started in Mysore at the old Akashavani buildings should be a full-pledged college for which he wanted atleast Rs. 5 lakhs should be set apart and not Rs. 50,000. He also pleaded for the revision of pay scales to teachers on the Varsity Pay Commission's basis.

Mr. T. S. Rajagopaliengar said that it was a 'speculative and artificial' budget since they were entirely dependent on the Government for a block grant of Rs. 76 lakhs. If the Government cut down the grant, the University had to forego many important development schemes. When all the Universities in India had accepted the University Grants Commission's pay scale to their teaching staff and provided funds, he regretted that the Mysore University had not provided any funds in its budget.

Mr. Gangi Veerappa wanted that they should avail themselves of the Centre's interest-free loan for construction of buildings. He also pleaded for upgrading of all intermediate colleges.

★ The Congress General Secretary has directed all the Presidents of the P. C. Cs to organise Economic Departments in their respective areas to promote scientific and objective thinking on the socio-economic problems affecting the people.

ENGLISH SHOULD BE RETAINED

MYSORE GOVT.'S REPLY TO KHER COMMISSION

Government have further stated that it was their considered view that for purposes of transacting the business of Government, Legislature, Courts and imparting education, English might continue to be used along with Hindi, which in the very nature of things, would gradually assume more importance than English in India.

As regards the time factor, Government were of the view that it would take more than ten years from now to replace English by Hindi completely and that it would be necessary to continue English for a certain period of time even after 1965.

The Chairman of the Commission Mr. B. G Kher told the Press yesterday that the Commission would submit the report by the end of July this year. He assured that Commission would pay due regard to the peculiar problems of the non-Hindi areas.

The two scientists examined the various types evolved at the Institute and particularly the protein-rich foods. They felt that many of them which were prepared out of indigenous materials and which were also quite cheap, could be used on a fairly exhaustive scale for combating the protein malnutrition in the country.

Dr. Aykroyd and Dr. King will hold discussions both with the different Government authorities and also with the various international agencies operating in India for evolving a joint programme for the large-scale production, distribution and testing of the different protein-rich foods. 5-CRORE SCHEME FOR SILK INDUSTRY

INDUSTRY TO RUN ON CO-OPERATIVE BASIS

ADVICE TO SERICULTURISTS

Mysore, 18

Mr. V. Nanjappa, Chairman of the Central Silk Board presiding over the conference of sericulturists of Nanjangud Subdivision at Santhemarahalli on Monday called upon the growers and producers of silk to organise themselves on a co-operative basis.

He disclosed that the Board had submitted plans to the extent of Rs. 5 crores for the development of industry and for conducting research. In this connection, he stated that they had sanctioned a grant of Rs.8 lakhs to partly finance the establishment of a Research Centre at Chennapatna.

Mr. Nanjappa referring to the demand of growers for the complete abolition of import of silk said that too was their objective but he warned them that unless they improved the quality of silk yarn they would have to continue importing to certain limited extent In this connection he said that silk-loom workers at Benaras for generations had been accustomed to work with fine silk yarn and now they were finding it difficult to get this quality and as such they were agitating for this. So he asked them to improve the quality of yarn by research.

Referring to the suggestion made at the conference for nationalistion of industries, he said that by organising themselves they could not only pool their resources but earn huge profits.

Mr. Nanjappa rejected a plea for the abolition of agricultural income-tax on sericulturists. He pointed out that this levy would be borne only by those who were rich and capable of paying. Anyway, he said "we have to get finance for our projects and this is one of the sources."

He commended to the Government the establishment of a school to train sericulturists particularly the sons of those engaged in the industry.

Mr. H. Siddaveerappa, Home Minister inaugurating the conference stressed the need for people's co-operation for the development of silk industry.

The Minister pointed out the various help rendered by the State Government and the Central Silk Board for the promotion of silk industry and said that along with this, the various persons engaged in the industry should take more interest instead of simply depending upon Government's help alone.

16 resolutions dealing with the industry were adopted.

A resolution moved by Mr. M. S Gurupadaswamy, M. P. welcoming the formation of Karnataka was also adopted.

Earlier, Patel Puttaswamappa welcomed. An address was presented to the Minister and to the Chairman of the Silk Board by Messrs. M. Rajasekhara Murthy and D. M. Siddiah. The address stated that the Nanjangud Sub-division was the largest silk growing area in the country. Out of 1,30,000 acres of mulbery in the State, 90,000 were in this area. As such it urged upon the Central and the State Governments to render all possible help for the development of the industry.

Mr. Channiah pointed out the paramount need for shaking off lethargy and work for the building of the Nation so that productivity might increase He said "We should become more and more nationalistic, develop our civic consciousness and wage a war against laziness and indiscipline".

CO-OPERATIVE CENTRALISATION

Prime Minister Nehru addressing the Standing Committee of the National Development Council has said that the only way to meet high-level contralisation brought about by industralisation was to have co-oprative centralisation for land and cottage industries.

He also stated that he did not believe in nationalisation as such because when "you nationalise you have got to pay compensation. I just do not see why we should waste our resources by compensating unless something comes in our way and we have to change it. I would rather put up a new factory and compete with the private factory."
